Government Notices.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Georgetown, Demerara,
3rd October, 1913.

462.

THE Deputy Governor directs the publication, for general information, the following Report by W. J. Gilchrist, Esquire, on the British Guiana Court at the Imperial Institute, London.

By Command,

G. BALL GREENE,
Acting Assistant Government Secretary.

Buxton, East Coast,
30th June, 1913.

SIR,

Referring to your letter No. 72 of 6th February, 1913, and to my interim report of 24th March, 1913, I have the honour to now submit my final report on the British Guiana Court at the Imperial Institute, London.

2. I visited the Institute on six occasions during the re-arrangement and on two occasions after being notified on the 29th May, 1913, that the Court had been put in order.

3. The crabwood screen suggested in paragraph 3 of Mr. Stockdale's report of 9th October, 1911, has been put up which now renders this Court self-contained. This screen is of three colours, the crabwood being polished in its natural state, then darkened in two shades, one a bright mahogany colour, the other a shade between this and its natural colour. This has been done to show the capabilities of the wood. It is one of the finest screens in the Institute. The oil painting of Georgetown has been worked in on the inner side and labelled "View of Old Georgetown." It is well that this has been done as it gives one the impression that Georgetown is a very primitive place. I doubt its service to the Colony. The outer side awaits the paintings of the Kaieteur Falls.

4. This screen together with the new improved type show cases of crabwood polished, a bright mahogany and the statistical diagrams—referred to hereafter—have in my opinion revolutionised the appearance of the Court which compares favourably with some of the best Courts. The general favourable impression is, however, somewhat lessened on close examination, due to the vacant spaces on the photo swing frame, reference to which has been made in my interim report, and also to some half-filled bottles of exhibits, viz., Tonka beans, Bird peppers, Cayenne pepper, Crab seeds, Souari nuts, Cocoa, Coffee.

5. I will now deal with the new cases, on each of which is stated the wood they are made of and contain specimen labels and general description labels.

- (a.) This case contains rice samples displayed in sloping glass fronted apartments carrying a shelf above upon which other exhibits of foodstuffs are placed and on upper glass shelf is exhibited Coffee, Cocoa, Kola nuts, Souari nuts.
- (b.) This case, of two tiers of glass shelves, contains representative collection of rubber and balata exhibits which have been most tastefully arranged, and reflects great credit on Dr. Chandler, the Superintendent.
- (c.) This case contains the sugar, rum, molasses and molascuit exhibits which have been well put up. In my opinion these exhibits should be in bottles of a much larger size which would give a more effective show of the staple industry of the Colony. The case is capable of taking bottles of a larger size. Only two specimens of molascuit are shown.
- (d.) This case, of two tiers of glass shelves, contains exhibits of cotton, spices, oil seeds, gums and resins.

In addition to these four cases there is a specially designed case about 7 feet high containing the various samples of fibres. This case only contains half of the samples sent. The Superintendent informed me that if funds permitted a similar case will be made for the balance. The samples are well exhibited.

6. The mahogany case containing the geological specimens has been scraped and polished as recommended. The exhibits are well arranged.

7. At the base of one of the mora logs a plinth has been constructed to accommodate upstanding the mora sleepers, logs of letter wood, paving blocks and wallaba specimens.

8. The other mora log referred to by Mr. Wyatt as worm-eaten can in my opinion serve its purpose for another year or two. True, it is worm-eaten but not to such an extent as to warrant me in stating it is unfit as an exhibit.

9. Seven statistical boards have been put up showing :—

- (a.) Export of Rice.
- (b.) Timber.
- (c.) Gold.
- (d.) Relative proportion of exports 1911-1912 in colours.
- (e.) General statistics regarding the Colony. Refers to area, population, Revenue and Expenditure 1905-6, 1910-11, 1911-12, Imports and Exports 1905-6, 1910-11, 1911-12.
- (f.) Sugar products (sugar, rum and molasses) 1902-3, 1904-5, 1906-7, 1908-9, 1910-11, 1911-12.
- (g.) Balata and rubber products 1902-3, 1904-5, 1906-7, 1908-9, 1910-11, 1911-12.

10. The map of Essequibo has been taken down as suggested. It has been transferred to the map room for reference.

11. I do not propose to deal with the exhibits that require renewing, nor as to the additional quantity of other exhibits required to fill the respective bottles on show as I understand Professor Dunstan, the Director, has forwarded a list in this connection. I strongly urge that this receive early attention and also the addition to the Court of preserved fruits in syrup or formalin, viz., oranges, limes, mangoes, etc., an attractive exhibit which lends colour to a court.

12. One class of exhibit I wish to refer to, viz., Jams. Only guava and pine jelly and guava jam are exhibited which I consider discreditable, put up as they are in ordinary 1lb. trade bottles. A large quantity should be sent which could then be put up in specimen bottles or bottles obtained from home for the purpose. I forcibly recommend the removal of these exhibits. If it is intended that jams should form an exhibit a more representative collection should be forwarded.

13. A complete series of coconut exhibits should be on show. The present exhibits are poor.

14. Greenheart does not appear to be adequately represented, I suggest that a slab-sleeper form—of this wood be forwarded for exhibit.

15. The question of a duplicate set of exhibits was again raised by the Director, who said that such could be stored at the Imperial Institute and would be useful for exhibition purposes and for loaning to various schools for lessons and lectures. The cases which have been replaced by the new crabwood ones could be utilised for the purpose.

16. In conclusion, I have to express my thanks to the Director of the Imperial Institute and the Superintendent of colonial collections for their kindness.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

WM. J. GILCHRIST.

Customs' Notice.TO IMPORTERS OF GOODS UNDER THE BRITISH PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

A CONSIDERABLE number of Certificates of Origin are still outstanding for goods entered at the preferential rate of duty under the provisions of Paragraph 6 of the Regulations governing the entry of preferential goods.

2. Importers who have failed to produce such proofs of origin for all goods entered by them during the months of June and July are hereby notified that all such outstanding transactions must be duly completed not later than the 24th of this month.

3. If overdue certificates for June and July entries are not produced at the Custom House by the aforementioned date all deposits made under the provisions of paragraph 6 of the Regulations will be carried to account under the appropriate head of revenue without further notice being given, and where bonds have been entered into for the due production of origin certificates entries must be passed for the amount of the differential duty by the 24th instant, or the bonds will be put into execution for the recovery of the difference in duty between the preferential and the general tariff rates.

J. M. REID,
Comptroller of Customs.

Custom House,
Georgetown,
13th October, 1913.

Customs Notice.

THE following notice is re-published for general information.

Custom House, Georgetown,
14th October, 1913.

J. M. REID,
Comptroller of Customs.

CERTIFICATES OF ORIGIN.

The undernoted forms have been approved for use in British Guiana and all the West India Islands parties to the Reciprocity Agreement.

2. The regulations governing the entry of goods under the British Preferential Tariff provide inter alia that all articles entitled to preference imported into British Guiana must be accompanied by certificates of origin.

3. Such proof of origin for goods consigned direct from the country of production or manufacture must, from the 1st October next, be in accordance with "Form I" hereunder, and for goods not consigned direct "Form II" must be used. It will be observed that "Form I" only requires to be verified by the signature of the exporter or a duly authorised representative, whilst "Form II" requires to be attested in British territory before a principal officer of Customs, a Notary Public or other official authorised to administer oaths, and in foreign countries before a British Consul.

4. In order to obtain admission at the preferential rates of duty goods require to be imported direct into British Guiana, but the source of Canadian Goods is not deemed to be affected by passing through the United States in bond.

5. In practice "Form I" will be required for all preferential goods consigned and imported direct from the United Kingdom, Canada or Newfoundland, and "Form II" will be used solely for Canadian goods passing through the United States in transit.

6. The Reciprocity Agreement has now been in force for three months, and numerous proofs of origin are still being received, chiefly from the United Kingdom, which are not in consonance with the regulation Certificate. Some of the certificates of origin which the Department is expected to accept are mere statements that the goods are of British origin or manufacture, and in other instances the South African, Canadian, New Zealand or Australian forms of origin are submitted.

7. Importers are hereby notified that on and after the 1st day of October next no certificate of origin will be accepted which is not in accordance with the form legally sanctioned.

8. Certificates may either be printed on the back of the invoice for the goods, or separately. In the latter case separate certificates must be submitted for each individual consignment of preferential goods.

Custom House, Georgetown,
4th September, 1913.

J. M. REID,
Comptroller of Customs.

Customs' Notice.TO IMPORTERS OF GOODS UNDER THE BRITISH PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

A CONSIDERABLE number of Certificates of Origin are still outstanding for goods entered at the preferential rate of duty under the provisions of Paragraph 6 of the Regulations governing the entry of preferential goods.

2. Importers who have failed to produce such proofs of origin for all goods entered by them during the months of June and July are hereby notified that all such outstanding transactions must be duly completed not later than the 24th of this month.

3. If overdue certificates for June and July entries are not produced at the Custom House by the aforementioned date all deposits made under the provisions of paragraph 6 of the Regulations will be carried to account under the appropriate head of revenue without further notice being given, and where bonds have been entered into for the due production of origin certificates entries must be passed for the amount of the differential duty by the 24th instant, or the bonds will be put into execution for the recovery of the difference in duty between the preferential and the general tariff rates.

J. M. REID,
Comptroller of Customs.

Custom House,

Customs Notice.

THE following notice is re-published for general information.

Custom House, Georgetown,
14th October, 1913.

J. M. REID,
Comptroller of Customs.

CERTIFICATES OF ORIGIN.

The undernoted forms have been approved for use in British Guiana and all the West India Islands parties to the Reciprocity Agreement.

2. The regulations governing the entry of goods under the British Preferential Tariff provide inter alia that all articles entitled to preference imported into British Guiana must be accompanied by certificates of origin.

3. Such proof of origin for goods consigned direct from the country of production or manufacture must, from the 1st October next, be in accordance with "Form I" hereunder, and for goods not consigned direct "Form II" must be used. It will be observed that "Form I" only requires to be verified by the signature of the exporter or a duly authorised representative, whilst "Form II" requires to be attested in British territory before a principal officer of Customs, a Notary Public or other official authorised to administer oaths, and in foreign countries before a British Consul.

4. In order to obtain admission at the preferential rates of duty goods require to be imported direct into British Guiana, but the source of Canadian Goods is not deemed to be affected by passing through the United States in bond.

5. In practice "Form I" will be required for all preferential goods consigned and imported direct from the United Kingdom, Canada or Newfoundland, and "Form II" will be used solely for Canadian goods passing through the United States in transit.

6. The Reciprocity Agreement has now been in force for three months, and numerous proofs of origin are still being received, chiefly from the United Kingdom, which are not in consonance with the regulation Certificate. Some of the certificates of origin which the Department is expected to accept are mere statements that the goods are of British origin or manufacture, and in other instances the South African, Canadian, New Zealand or Australian forms of origin are submitted.

7. Importers are hereby notified that on and after the 1st day of October next no certificate of origin will be accepted which is not in accordance with the form legally sanctioned.

8. Certificates may either be printed on the back of the invoice for the goods, or separately. In the latter case separate certificates must be submitted for each individual consignment of preferential goods.

Custom House, Georgetown,
4th September, 1913.

J. M. REID,
Comptroller of Customs.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 6TH DAY OF OCTOBER, 1913.

U. S. GRANT, Appellant,

versus

WEST INDIA DEVELOPMENT SYNDICATE, Respondent.

The following judgment was read:—

EARNshaw, actg. C.J.: This is a peculiar case. The appellant as plaintiff in the Supreme Court sued the defendants for breach of an agreement under which he was the lessee of the bar of the Cinema Theatre. He there claimed damages which included (1) loss of estimated profits; (2) damages for breach of the contract by forcibly evicting him; (3) special damages for articles detained by the defendants.

The case was heard and objection was taken that the statement of claim disclosed two causes of action which could not be taken together, one in contract and one in tort. On this plaintiff's counsel said that he was claiming for breach of agreement only, and the learned Judge found that a breach had been committed, and gave damages only for loss of estimated profits which he assessed at $10. He awarded no costs.

Now it is beyond doubt that if plaintiff's counsel had made it clear to the Court that damages also could be awarded for the forcible eviction as being a breach of the contract, i.e., a breach by the lessor of the implied covenant in the lease for quiet enjoyment by the lessee, the Court might have granted damages also under that head.

But as far as I can gather from the record and the judgment, the forcible eviction was regarded as a tort, for which damages could not be claimed jointly with damages for breach of contract. The result of the above is that plaintiff sued the defendants again this time in tort and in the Magistrate's Court for (inter alia) damages for the forcible eviction.

Counsel for defendant before the Magistrate set up the defence of res judicata. A careful perusal of the judgment of the learned Judge in the Supreme Court shows, however, that though the forcible eviction was properly pleaded as a breach of the contract, yet no damages were awarded under that head.

I can only find that this question of the forcible eviction was, if I may use the words, res non judicata.

Under these circumstances I cannot see that the claim now before this Court on appeal from the Magistrate is in any way wrongly brought.

The Magistrate gave judgment for the defendants on the ground that "the assault (i.e., the forcible eviction) was disposed of and covered by the damages given in the Supreme Court action."

It is quite true that this was pleaded in that action, but it is equally true that damages were not considered in the judgment in that action.

The Magistrate is therefore wrong.

I find that his decision is erroneous in point of law on the grounds (a) and (c) set forth in the reasons of appeal.

I therefore reverse his decision and under the powers conferred by Ordinance 13 of 1893, section 31 (1) (c), I order that judgment be entered for the plaintiff for $30 damages for the forcible eviction with costs both in this Court and the Court below.

I desire to add that in my opinion the provisions of Order xvi. which, according to the cases decided thereunder, prevent the joinder of causes of action arising from breach of contract and from tort even under the same set of circumstances, should be abolished. Order xviii. of the English practice might well be substituted.

A. VIEIRA, Appellant
versus

J. M. REID, Respondent.

The following Judgment was read:—

EARNSHAW, actg. C.J.: The appellant was convicted in the Court below on the complaint that on the 2nd July, 1913, he unlawfully and knowingly did keep in a certain shop situate at lot 134, Waterloo Street, Georgetown, five pounds seven ounces of tobacco, the duties in respect of which had not been paid.

From this conviction he appeals.

The reasons for appeal are, as is usual in these cases, numerous.

It is alleged that the decision is erroneous in point of law on nine grounds and further alleged that (1) illegal evidence was admitted; and (2) the decision is unwarranted by the evidence.

The net is spread widely in the hope that something at any rate may be caught. The meshes are, however, very often too wide to catch anything.

After considering the various reasons and the arguments used in their support I find on 1 (a) that the information was good in law. The objection taken thereto is of the flimsiest nature, and if upheld would render the administration of the law absurd and ridiculous.

Reason 1 (b) turns on the words "knowingly kept" "tobacco the duties of custom in respect of which had not been paid."

After a consideration of sections 156, 200, and 201 of Ordinance 7 of 1884, I am satisfied that the Magistrate was right. The word "knowingly" in section 164 (6) qualifies the verb "keep" only, and does not qualify or affect in any way the words "prohibited, restricted, or uncustomed."

The prosecution need only prove knowledge of the keeping, not guilty knowledge under this section. Where, however, as in section 164 (8) to the word "knowingly" there are added in the same sentence such words as "with intent to defraud" then the proof of mens rea or "guilty knowledge" lies on the prosecution.

This is my interpretation of section 200 of the Ordinance in question, and my comment on the judgment in the case of DePaiva v. Reid, 16th April, 1910, (local Appellate).

I therefore need only say on ground 1 (c) that by the three sections above referred to "the burden of proving that the Customs Duties were paid is cast on the appellant," i.e., the defendant in the Court below.

As regards reason 1 (d), I say no more than that I cannot see any reason for limiting the word "keep" in the way Counsel for the appellant contended. As it stands it is unlimited so far as the person or class of persons "keeping" is concerned and there is nothing in the context which could authorise me to narrow the interpretation. I can see many reasons why the meaning should not be limited in the way suggested.

Dealing next with reason 1 (e), I hold that it follows from the above that the appellant though a servant can within the meaning of the section well be held to have kept the tobacco.

Reasons 1 (f), (g), (h), and (i), are already all dealt with either by implication or otherwise and there is no necessity to discuss them or any of them further. These objections all fail.

On the further reasons alleged, I find that (1) even though illegal evidence was to a certain extent admitted yet there was sufficient legal evidence to sustain the verdict after rejecting the illegal evidence and (2) there is no ground whatever for alleging that the decision is unwarranted by the evidence.

The decision of the Magistrate is therefore confirmed, and the appeal is dismissed with costs.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 30TH DAY OF OCTOBER, 1913.

A. CORREIA, Appellant,
versus

J. H. LITT, Respondent.

The following decision was read:—

EARNSHAW, actg. C. J.: In the Court below the respondent claimed as father and natural guardian of his minor daughter damages for the bite of a dog, and was awarded $44.

From the decision of the learned Magistrate an appeal is brought on the following grounds:—

(1.) The decision is erroneous in point of law because (a) the plaintiff's damages were assessed by the plaintiff himself at $24 and it was not competent for the Magistrate to award more, (b) the plaintiff was under the circumstances estopped from claiming more and (c) the learned Magistrate misdirected himself in awarding $20 in addition to the sum of $24.

(2.) That legal evidence was rejected by the Magistrate.

As regards reason (1) I find and apparently the Magistrate found as a fact that the plaintiff did not assess his damages at $24. At one time he and his wife appear to have been willing to accept in settlement $24 plus the amount of the doctor's bill but the negotiations fell through. He was not estopped by such negotiations from claiming or obtaining a larger amount in legal proceedings, and the Magistrate could award as much as he thought fit within the amount of the claim.

The Magistrate awarded $44, and if he had not afterwards given his reasons for decision his judgment could not successfully be attacked on the above ground; but in his reasons he says that of the $44 he awarded $10 to the plaintiff "for the trouble and expense of coming to Court."

In a claim of this nature damages cannot be awarded on that ground.

I have, however, power to "make such order for disposing of the case as justice may require," and I think the proper measure of damages would be $19, special damages (viz., doctor's bill, $10 and chemist's bill, $9,) plus $25, general damages for shock, pain and suffering.

The amount awarded $44 will therefore not be varied.

After considering reason (2) I see no reason to differ from the Magistrate. Rule 20 of the Magistrate's Court Rules, 1911, provides that "it shall not be sufficient for a defendant in his defence to deny generally the claims contained in the plaint, but he must state clearly and specifically the ground or grounds upon which he relies by way of defence. In this case defendant's counsel when called upon to plead, denied generally. He never set forth either clearly or otherwise his ground or grounds of defence.

Before me he said that in the Court below he wished to raise the defence that the bite did not take place on the public street, and therefore, I suppose, that the person bitten was a trespasser at the time.

The Magistrate thought that he was trying to set up the defence of contributory negligence.

This misunderstanding shows how very salutary Rule 20 is, and I shall do nothing to weaken its force.

The Magistrate was right in his refusal to admit the evidence tendered.

As on the result the amount which I award is the same as was awarded by the Magistrate I simply dismiss the appeal with costs.

BENJAMIN THOMAS, Appellant,

versus

E. G. SEELY, L.S.M., 1521 of Police, Respondent.

The following decision was read:—

EARNSHAW, actg. C. J.: The appellant was convicted by the learned Magistrate on the complaint that he, on the 20th June, 1913, on a public way did openly carry a stick without lawful cause in such a manner as to cause alarm to the public.

The reasons of appeal are as follows:—

(1.) The decision is erroneous in point of law because (a) it has not been proved that the defendant openly carried or carried at all a stick within the meaning of section 139 of the Summary Conviction Offences Ordinance; (b) even assuming that it has been proved that the defendant openly carried a stick, it has not been proved that he carried it in such a manner as to cause alarm to the public; (c) because the learned Magistrate in arriving at his verdict against the defendant was influenced by the legally erroneous view that the Legislature enacted the section 139 in question so as to deter, if possible, the commission of greater and further offences which would probably follow if the first offence were carried on and continued in the manner in which one might reasonably expect it to be by persons offending under the section.

(2.) The decision is altogether unwarranted by the evidence in like manner as if the case had been tried by a jury there would not have been sufficient evidence to sustain the verdict; (a) for the foregoing reasons, (b) because the evidence as to the defendant's having and holding up a stick is manifestly vague, contradictory, unreliable and improbable, and in some points carries with it a strong suggestion of having been manufactured for the purpose.

I have set forth the reasons in full in order to make the comment thereon that many appeals are brought from the decisions of the Magistrates on questions of fact alone, even when there is ample evidence to support the Magistrate's finding on such questions.

This is contrary to the intention of the Magistrates Decisions (Appeals) Ordinance.

Such findings can only be disturbed if as is set forth fully in reason (2) above the decision is altogether unwarranted by the evidence.

In this case the evidence for the prosecution is supported by the evidence of the defendant and his witness Joseph Goodluck, and on a review thereof I see no reason whatever for saying that the complaint is not fully proved. The decision cannot even by a stretch of the imagination be said to be unwarranted by the evidence which completely satisfies me that defendant (1) carried a stick, (2) carried it openly, (3) carried it on a public way, and (4) carried it in such a manner as to cause alarm to the public.

As regards reason (1c.), I need only say that it could afford no ground whatever for reversing the decision of the Magistrate.

If his decision is otherwise right, it does not matter in the least what his views are as to the intention of the Legislature.

All the reasons for appeal fail and the appeal is dismissed with costs.

THIS 31ST DAY OF OCTOBER, 1913.

ALEXANDER, Appellant,

versus

SEECHARAN, Respondent.

The following decision was read:—

EARNSHAW, Actg. C.J.:—In this case the appellant through his counsel abandons the reasons of appeal and asks only for a modification of the sentence.

He was convicted by the Magistrate on the charge of unlawfully assaulting the respondent so as to cause him actually bodily harm.

The evidence shows that the appellant made an unprovoked attack upon respondent with a stick and left him unconscious and bleeding on the ground.

Dr. Irving, in his evidence, says the complainant had a lacerated wound on his left cheek, a contused wound on the eye and an abrasion of the skin also on his left cheek. He further says that great force must have been used, that he had to put in one stitch, and that there is danger to the eye.

For this the Magistrate imposed a sentence of imprisonment for four months with hard labour.

I am asked to treat the case as if it were one suited for fine and compensation merely.

I cannot do so. I refer the parties to the decision which I have just delivered in the case of Dimmott v. Curling. I there set forth the reasons which influence me in dealing with applications of this kind.

I see no ground for interfering with the discretion of the Magistrate and I dismiss the appeal with costs.

FERNANDES, Appellant,

versus

BARBOUR, Respondent.

The following decision was read:—

EARNSHAW, C.J. (Actg.): The appellant was convicted by the Magistrate on the charge that he did indecently assault the respondent, a female, and he received a sentence of imprisonment with hard labour for four months.

There are really only two reasons for appeal:—(1) that the complainant being under fourteen years of age is a "child" in the view of the law, and as such is not competent to lay a complaint, and (2) that the decision is altogether unwarranted by the evidence.

Reason (2) was not forcibly argued, and it is certainly clear that it could not be argued with success.

The Magistrate states why he believed one set of witnesses rather than the other set; and if he believed the witnesses for the prosecution, as he did, there was ample evidence on which he might convict.

The first reason for appeal required more consideration. Counsel for the appellant said that he could not find a decision on the question raised, and after an independent search I find myself in the same position.

I can see that in several cases it is at least inadvisable that a "child" should be allowed to prosecute alone.

Section 43 (1) of Ordinance 12 of 1893 would in the majority of such cases be of no avail. This provides that the Court may, when a complaint is dismissed, order the complainant to pay costs, or costs and compensation to the defendant. A "child" would probably not have the wherewithal to meet such an order; and a defendant might therefore suffer a loss. But I do not think that the Court can limit the words of section 6 of Ordinance 12 of 1893, and so deprive a class of His Majesty's subjects from making a complaint when an offence has been committed.

The pertinent words are "It shall be lawful for any person to make a complaint." I cannot say that a child under fourteen years of age is not a person within the meaning of the section.

The position is one more for legislation, than judicial decision.

There are several provisions specially affecting children when they are defendants under which the parent or guardian becomes liable for their acts.

It may be advisable to provide by legislation that a "child" shall not be allowed to make a complaint except through the police, or its parent or guardian, but with that question the Court as such has nothing to do.

In this case the defendant was not in any way prejudiced by the fact that the complainant is a "child."

I therefore conclude that reason (1) also fails.

Counsel asked me in the event of such a conclusion to consider whether I might not reduce the punishment.

I need only refer him to what I said this morning in the case of Dimmott v. Curling.

The Magistrate has exercised a discretion with which I see no reason to interfere.

The appeal is therefore dismissed with costs.

DIMMOTT, Appellant,

versus

CURLING, Respondent.

The following decision was read:—

EARNSHAW, C.J. (Actg.): The appellant was convicted by the learned Magistrate on the charge of unlawful assault, and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment with hard labour without the option of a fine. The Magistrate says "I found that defendant had unwarrantably and seriously assaulted" the respondent.

Two reasons for appeal are alleged:—

(1.) That the Magistrate was wrong in ordering the appellant to undergo imprisonment without the option of a fine.

(2.) That the decision is unwarranted by the evidence.

The learned counsel for the appellant practically (and I think wisely) abandoned his reasons for appeal and confined himself to asking me to give the appellant the option of paying compensation, or compensation and a fine.

It is quite clear that it was within the discretion of the Magistrate to impose a term of imprisonment without giving the respondent the option of paying a fine.

I am asked to interfere with that discretion.

In the case of Carrington v. De Cairos (Local Appellate, 26th October, 1901) Bovell, when acting C.J., decided that this Court had power to modify a sentence in the way now desired, and this decision was acted upon by Lucie Smith, J., in Brumell v. Bannister, 8th November, 1907. For that judgment I have the greatest respect, as I know what great care Bovell, C.J., always took; and in a proper case I should not hesitate to follow it. But I am of opinion that the question of a remission or modification of a sentence, so long as the sentence is within the limit allowed by the law, is, in the absence of express legislation to the contrary, more within the province of the Governor in the exercising of a prerogative delegated to him, than within the power of the Court.

In England the power to reduce and even to increase a sentence has been specially conferred by the Legislature on the Court established for hearing appeals in criminal cases.

Such a power should however be exercised with great caution. It would do much harm to interfere lightly with the discretion of a Magistrate, when he has used discretion. Such a course might easily impair or weaken that reliance which one in the position of a Magistrate ought always to have on his own considered opinion or judgment. When a Magistrate thinks that a heavy punishment alone meets the circumstances of the case, he ought to be able to inflict such punishment without the consciousness that his sentence may be readily interfered with.

I have read the evidence in this case and I do not see any reason for interfering with the discretion of the Magistrate.

The appeal is therefore dismissed with costs.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

INSOLVENCY JURISDICTION.

THIS 1ST DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

In re J. DE FREITAS, INSOLVENT.

The following decision was read:—

HILL, J. (actg.): The debtor has no right to be present at examinations held under section 25 of the Insolvency Ordinance, 1900, because that which is done at that stage is not an adjudication but is for the purpose of collecting information to be laid before the Court when it comes to consider the question of the bankrupt's discharge, and see also section 64 of the Insolvency Ordinance, 1900, as to the duties of the Official Receiver, in regard to the debtor. I will take the examination of the witnesses in Chambers.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 5TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

DE SOUZA

v.

GAMBLE.

The following decision was read:—

HILL, J. (Acting.) This is an appeal from the decision of a Magistrate convicting the appellant of selling malt liquor in his licensed place situated on lot 51, Louisa Row, between the hours of 11 p.m. on Saturday, 26th July, 1913, and 5 a.m. of the following Monday, 28th July, 1913.

The alleged sale is said to have taken place about 12.30 a.m. on Monday, 28th July, 1913.

The reasons of appeal are (1) that the decision is erroneous in point of law, and (2) that the decision is unwarranted by the evidence because the witnesses for the prosecution differed in their versions of the affair.

The second reason, I gather, is meant to come under Section 9(8) of Ordinance 13 of 1893, but is not in accordance with the requirements of that Section, which requires it to be shown that the Magistrate's decision is altogether unwarranted by the evidence. I draw attention to this in order to let practitioners know that these requirements must be strictly adhered to in framing their reasons for appeal. As a matter of fact, this reason was not argued other than by the advancement of the suggestion by appellant's counsel that the evidence against his client merely amounted to a scintilla.

It is apparent from the proceedings that the weight of testimony taken as a whole was for the Magistrate to decide upon, and if there was sufficient evidence, as there was, to enable him to decide as he did, this Court will not interfere.

The real point is, Was there a sale? That the place is licensed has been proved by the evidence for the prosecution, and if the appellant sold in that licensed place within prohibited hours he is liable, for "every person," according to the Section under which the charge is brought (3 of Ord. 20 of 1902), who "sells" is liable and it is immaterial whether he is the licensee of the place or not.

I am of opinion after considering the evidence before the Magistrate that he was entitled to consider a sale proved on the part of the appellant, and was justified in convicting him.

The appeal is dismissed, and the decision affirmed with costs.

11. The stelling when completed shall be open to the public without charge but only for the purpose of access of persons and goods in transit to and from craft in the river from or to the Railway Station and Public Road.

12. a loss is sustained on the working of the extended West Coast Railway from Vreed-en-Hoop to Parika the Company shall be entitled to deduct one-sixth of such loss or losses from the surplus to be paid to the Government in any subsequent half-year or half-years as hereinbefore provided until the total amount of such loss or losses has been repaid. 17. The Company shall provide for the free transport from the stations at Vreed-en-Hoop and Parika to the steamers lying alongside the stelling or vice versa of all luggage of all first-class passengers travelling by rail and steamer.

20. The subsidy payable by the Government to the Company under the aforesaid Indentures of 31st January, 1896, and 15th April, 1901, shall in no event be liable for any sum which may become due to the Government under this Contract and the said subsidy shall not be attachable by the Government for implement of any of the obligations of the Company in this Contract.

21. During the existence of the Contract the Government shall not at any time subsidise any steamer or other service for the conveyance of passengers mails or goods to and from Georgetown and Parika, or to and from Vreed-en-Hoop and Parika, or to and from any intermediate places between Georgetown or Vreed-en-Hoop and Parika. And in the event of any steamer service receiving a subsidy from the Government being instituted between Georgetown or Vreed-en-Hoop and places beyond Parika the conditions of payment of such subsidy shall be that all the steamers of such service shall call at Parika in connection with the Railway Company's trains at times to be specified by the Government and that the minimum rates and fares charged by all steamers of such service between Georgetown or Vreed-en-Hoop and Parika and any intermediate point and any point beyond Parika shall not be less than the combined fares between the same points by ferry rail and steamer.

22. The Government also agrees that should any balance not be required of the sum of £16,000 for the hereinbefore referred to Extension of the West Coast Railway, such balance may be used in giving direct connection between the Ferry Stelling at Vreed-en-Hoop and the railway line at that place in the construction of a stelling to connect the present terminus of the line with the front of the Ferry Stelling. Provided always that the Plan and Specification for any such work be previously approved by the Governor-in-Council.

23. The Company shall be at liberty to close Greenwich Park Station and to remove the buildings to Parika but shall retain the existing loop at Greenwich Park to allow of the crossing of trains at that place.

24. The Governor shall not nor shall any officer or Member of the Government or any of the Crown Agents be in anywise personally bound for the acts and obligations of the Government under these presents or answerable for any default or omission in the observance, performance or fulfilment of any of the acts, matters or things which are hereby made obligatory on the Government.

25. If any portion of the total sum to be provided by the Government for the construction and equipment of the Extension of the West Coast Railway be required in London for payment of any material supplied therefrom it shall be paid to the Company by the Crown Agents on application being made for the same.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Georgetown, Demorara.

513. 1st November, 1913.

The following Circular Despatch from the Secretary of State for the Colonies transmitting copies of revised Regulations for the entry of Naval Cadets, is hereby published for general information:—
CIRCULAR.

Downing Street,
22nd September, 1913.

Sir,—With reference to the Circular despatches noted in the margin, I have the honour to inform you that the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have decided to raise the age-limits for candidates for Naval Cadetships from 12½-13 years, to 13½-14½ years. I enclose copies of the Regulations embodying the new arrangements, which will come into force at the examination to be held in December next for the January, 1914, entry.

2. Their Lordships have also had under consideration the possibility of making arrangements for the inclusion of Colonial candidates in the scheme which they have recently introduced for the Special Entry of Naval Cadets. I enclose copies of a Memorandum giving particulars of this scheme, with copies of the Regulations governing the entry of candidates.

3. It has been decided that no satisfactory arrangements for the local examination of candidate for Special Entry Cadetships are possible: but, while local facilities to compete cannot be given, the names of candidates will be gladly received by the Admiralty if they can appear for examination in England.

4. The Regulations enclosed are those drawn up for the year 1913, but those for 1914-16 will be on the same general lines, except that candidates during those years must be between the ages of 17½ and 18½ on the 1st of June of the year in which the examination is held.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble servant,

L. HARCOURT.

The Officer Administering the Government of British Guiana.

NAVAL CADETS.

REGULATIONS FOR ENTRY AND TRAINING AT THE ROYAL NAVAL COLLEGES AT OSBORNE AND
DARTMOUTH, AND ON BOARD THE TRAINING
CRUISERS.

(These Regulations apply to Cadets entering after September 1913.)

1. No nomination is required by a Candidate for a Naval Cadetship. All that is necessary is to send an application to the Assistant Private Secretary to the First Lord of the Admiralty. Applications should not be made until the Candidate has reached 12½ years of age.

2. Candidates must be of pure European descent, and the sons either of natural-born or naturalized British subjects. In doubtful cases the burden of clear proof will rest upon the parents or guardians of Candidates.

3. All Naval Cadets entered under these Regulations are trained together until they pass for the rank of Lieutenant.

After passing for the rank of Lieutenant, they may be required to serve either as general service officers or in one of the special branches, undertaking either Engineering, Gunnery, Torpedo, Navigation, or Marine duty.

As far as possible Officers selected for special service will be allowed to choose the branch in which they will qualify, subject to the proviso that all branches are satisfactorily filled.

Parents or guardians of Candidates for appointment as Naval Cadets must undertake for them that they are prepared to serve in any branch if required.

4. Parents or guardians are required to declare in writing their intention that the Candidate, if he obtains a Cadetship, shall adopt the Navy as his profession in life; and it is subject to this undertaking that Candidates are selected for Cadetships. Every Cadet who enters the Royal Naval College must therefore be prepared to continue his training so long as the Admiralty are satisfied with his progress, and parents are not at liberty to withdraw their sons at will.

On the entry of a Cadet, Parents or Guardians will be required to undertake that, in the event of his withdrawing or being withdrawn from the College, or from the Navy before being confirmed as a Sub-Lieutenant, they will pay to the Admiralty, if demanded, the sum of 25*l.* per term in respect of each term passed by him at the R.N. Colleges Osborne and Dartmouth, from the date of his entry to the date of his withdrawal, as a contribution towards the balance of the cost of his training and maintenance not covered by the annual payment of 75*l.* mentioned in paragraph 15.

This undertaking does not apply to Cadets withdrawn at the request of the Admiralty.

5. Entries take place three times a year, in January, May, and September.

Candidates for entry in January must be more than 13 years and 4 months but not more than 13 years and 8 months of age on the preceding 1st December.

Candidates for entry in May must be more than 13 years and 4 months but not more than 13 years and 8 months of age on the preceding 1st April.

Candidates for entry in September must be more than 13 years and 4 months but not more than 13 years and 8 months of age on the preceding 1st August.

6. All Candidates (except those being educated in the Colonies who have received special Colonial recommendations under paragraph 10) will be required to present themselves before a committee, which will interview each applicant separately.

The applications must be received at the Admiralty:—

For the January entry before 1st October.

“ “ May “ “ 1st January.

“ “ September “ “ 1st May.

Appointments to Naval Cadetships are made by the First Lord from among Candidates recommended by the Committee, and all such appointments are subject to the Candidate passing a Medical Examination (see paragraph 8) and a Qualifying Examination in educational subjects (see paragraph 9).

The fact, however, of a Candidate being invited to appear before this Committee is not to be understood as in any degree implying that he will necessarily be chosen to attend the Qualifying Examination.

The Interview Committee will sit shortly before the date fixed for each Qualifying Examination.

* Candidates are eligible only for one Interview and Qualifying Examination.

7. The Qualifying Examinations are held in December, March, and July, and the appointments of successful Candidates date from the 15th January, 15th May, 15th September following, respectively.

8. Every Candidate must be in good health, and free from any physical defect of body, impediment of speech, defect of sight or hearing, and also from any predisposition to constitutional or hereditary disease or weakness of any kind, and be in all respects well developed and active in proportion to his age. Before undergoing the Qualifying Examination he is required to pass the Medical Examination according to the prescribed regulations, and must be found physically fit for the Navy.

It should be particularly noted that full normal vision—as determined by Snellen's tests—is required. A memorandum is issued by the Admiralty which gives details of the physical requirements of candidates.

A Medical Board of Appeal has been instituted to meet cases in which the Parent or Guardian of a Candidate is not satisfied with the result of the Official Medical Examination. This appeal Board will consist of the Director General of the Medical Department of the Navy, a physician nominated by the Medical Consultative Board, and a specialist in the particular defect which caused the disqualification of the Candidate, to be selected from a list drawn up by the Consultative Board.

In the event of the rejection on medical grounds of a Candidate who would otherwise have been selected for the Qualifying Examination, the Parent or Guardian will at once be informed that, subject to the payment of a fee of four guineas, the Candidate may present himself for re-examination by the Appeal Board, and that if an appeal is desired notification must be made by the Parent or Guardian to the Director General of the Medical Department, Admiralty, within a week of the first Medical Examination. The notification must be accompanied by a cheque for four guineas made payable to the Accountant General of the Navy.

* Candidates, however, who were unsuccessful under the old regulations may again present themselves under the new rule as to age which is stated in paragraph 5.

Should any case occur where a selected candidate is prevented by illness from attending the qualifying examination, the Admiralty will consider whether special arrangements can be made for him to be examined by the Head Master of the Royal Naval College, Osborne, at the beginning of the ensuing term.

*9. The Qualifying Examination is in the following subjects:—

- (1) English (including writing from dictation and reproduction of the gist of a short passage twice read aloud to the Candidates).
- (2) History and Geography, with special reference to the British Empire.
- (3) Arithmetic and Algebra (two-thirds of the questions in this paper will be on Arithmetic. The use of Algebraic symbols and processes will be allowed).

Arithmetic. The simple and compound rules avoirdupois weight, linear and square and cubic measures, the elementary mensuration of rectangular surfaces and volumes, measure of capacity (pints, quarts, gallons), the metric system (the metre, gramme and litre, with their multiples and sub-multiples), money (including the relationship of the cent to the dollar, and the centime to the franc), reduction, factors, the addition, subtraction, multiplication, division and simplification of vulgar fractions, non-recurring decimal fractions, simple proportion, ratio and percentage, simple interest.

Algebra. The meaning of algebraic symbols, substitution of values, easy identities, equations of the first degree including simultaneous equation, verification of the solution of equations, problems leading to simple equations, multiplication and division by binomial operator, easy factors (excluding sum and difference of cubes), fractions with numerical denominators.

- (4) Geometry. The paper will consist of questions both on Practical and on Theoretical Geometry.

All candidates must be provided with a ruler graduated in inches and tenths, and also in centimetres and millimetres, a small set square, a protractor, pencil compasses, and a hard pencil.

Any proof of a proposition will be accepted which appears to the Examiner to form part of a systematic treatment of the subject. Simple deductions from specified theorems will be set.

Proofs of the validity of constructions will not as a rule be expected but they may be asked for.

Practical Geometry. The constructions shown in the appended Schedule. A. 1—7. See page 6.

Theoretical Geometry. See appended Schedule B, page 6. The facts stated in the following theorems, together with riders on them, but without formal proofs of the theorems:—B, 1—11. Formal proofs of the following theorems, together with riders on them:—B, 14—19, 21, 22.

Note.—The numbers in the Schedules correspond to those in the Geometry Schedule of the Common Examination for entrance to Public Schools, as reprinted from the Cambridge University Ordinances.

- (5) French or German, with an oral examination to which importance will be attached.

- (6) Latin (easy passages for translation from Latin into English and from English into Latin and simple grammatical questions.)

The list of successful candidates will be published in alphabetical order. A certain number of successful candidates who show excellence in the examination and have also been highly recommended by the Interview Committee will receive "Honourable Mention," and will be distinguished by an asterisk in the list of successful candidates.

10. Governments of certain Dominions and Colonies are allowed to recommend (through the Secretary of State for the Colonies) a certain number of Candidates annually from among boys belonging to families resident in the Dominions and Colonies.

* NOTE.—Copies of the papers set at the examinations held in each year are printed by the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board, and may be obtained on application to the Secretary of the Admiralty, free of charge. It should be noted, however, that the questions in papers set under these regulations will be slightly more advanced than those set prior to September 1913, in consequence of the age of entry being raised.

Unless such candidates, however, actually reside and receive their education in their own Dominion or Colony they must be also recommended by the Interview Committee, and must pass the Qualifying Examination and the Medical Examination.

11. Naval Cadets will undergo a course of instruction in the Shore Training Establishments for a period of four years of which two years will be at Osborne and the remainder at Dartmouth. On passing out of the College at Dartmouth they will continue their training for a period on board a special Training Cruiser, and will then be sent to the sea-going fleet as Midshipmen.

12. The following are the approximate dates for the beginning and end of the three terms at the Colleges:—

16th January to 15th April,
8th May to 6th August,
19th September to 17th December.

The vacations at the Colleges are as follows:—

Four weeks at Christmas,
Three weeks at Easter,
Six weeks at Midsummer.

13. The friends of the Cadets must be prepared to receive them during all the vacations.

14. All Naval Cadets shall be subject to the Regulations for the time being in force respecting Cadets while at the Royal Naval Colleges at Osborne and Dartmouth and on board the Training Cruisers.

15. For all Cadets entering under these Regulations payment will be at the rate of 75*l.* per annum for the period under training at the Colleges to be paid in sums of 25*l.* every term in advance to the Cashier of the Bank of England on receipt of claim from the Accountant-General of the Navy. But the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty reserve the power of selecting from among the Cadets entered at each examination a limited number, being sons of Officers of the Navy, Army or Marines, or of Civil Officers under the Board of Admiralty with respect to whom the annual payment will be 40*l.* only. In making this selection Their Lordships will have regard solely to the pecuniary circumstances of the Cadet and his parents.

Applications for the reduced scale must be received at the Admiralty:—

For the January entry before 1st October.
" May " " 1st February.
" September " " 1st June.

Claims will be made upon the Parents or Guardians by the Accountant-General of the Navy for the sums payable as they become due and the money should be at once remitted.

16. In addition to the above payments any expenses incurred by a Cadet for clothing, sports, books, instruments, washing, &c., as well as the allowance of 1*s.* a week paid as pocket money are included in the personal account sent to the parent from the College as soon as possible after the end of each term.

17. No pay is allowed by Government to the Cadets in the Colleges, except in the case of Cadet captains, who receive a small weekly allowance.

The pay of Cadets in the Training Cruisers is 1*s.* a day, and that of Midshipmen is 1*s.* 9*d.* a day.

18. The fees specified in paragraph 15 will cease on the Cadet joining the Training Cruiser. Parents or Guardians will then be required to make the Cadet a private allowance of 50*l.* a year until he reaches the rank of Acting Sub-Lieutenant, and thereafter a private allowance of 20*l.* a year for as long as he remains an Acting Sub-Lieutenant with pay at the rate of 3*s.* 6*d.* a day.

19. The parent or guardian of every Cadet is required to provide outfit under the regulations in force.

20. All travelling expenses for Cadets are advanced by the paymaster of the College, who will charge the sum to the Cadet's personal account.

21. Inasmuch as the Cadets have a weekly allowance paid to them as pocket money, and a charge is made to pay the expenses attending their amusements, it is unnecessary that their friends should give them any money, except on joining or on their return from the vacations, and the amount should then be reasonable. Such money as may be required by a Cadet for any special circumstance will be advanced by the Paymaster under the authority of the Captain.

22. Any valuable gold watches or chains brought by the Cadets to the Colleges will be taken from them and placed in security until the Cadets return home. Silver watches may be used.

23. Arrangements are made for the conveyance from Portsmouth to Osborne of the Cadets who are joining the College for the first time. Such Cadets should assemble at the Dockyard Gates (near Portsmouth Harbour Station) shortly before 3 p.m. on the day appointed for joining. Cadets rejoining the College will be expected to make their own arrangements for doing so.

24. Cadets are to bring their Linen clean, and Clothes and Boots in good order, when they join the College, and also when they return from leave, and the outfit, as specified on the list attached, must be complete. A list of the clothes left behind will be sent with Cadets when they go on leave.

25. Cadets are not permitted to open accounts with Tradesmen. Parents or Guardians are requested not to allow their sons' outfitters to supply clothes or other articles without their authorisation.

26. Each Cadet on joining and on returning after the vacations is required to produce a health certificate—signed by his Parent or Guardian not earlier than the day before the Cadet's return—to the effect that so far as is known, he has not for at least three weeks immediately preceding his return been exposed to any infectious disease, or entered any house where such disease had existed. A certificate drawn up in the necessary form is sent to each parent, and failure on the part of the Cadet to produce this certificate, duly filled and signed, on his return will entail his not being received.

In the event of a Cadet being placed on the Sick List information is always sent to his Parents or Guardians who are also kept informed of the progress of the patient should the illness be in the slightest degree serious.

27. Letters relative to the Cadets should be addressed to "The Commanding Officer, Royal Naval College" or "The Commanding Officer, H.M.S. . . .", and not to the Captain by name.

Parents or Guardians of Cadets must, in all cases of permanent change of residence, inform the Admiralty and the Commanding Officer of the College or the Cruiser without delay.

28. The course of study includes the following subjects:—

Mathematics, with Geometrical drawing.
Physics and Chemistry.
Mechanics and Applied Mechanics, with laboratory work.
Applied Electricity, with laboratory work.
Engineering, with workshop practice, and Mechanical Drawing.
Seamanship, with Gunnery in the Training Cruiser.
Navigation.
French or German.
English Grammar and Composition.
English Literature.
History, including Naval History.
Geography.
Bible Study.
Drill and Physical Training.

A large proportion of the time of the Cadets is given to the practical study of Engineering in the Workshops and instructional Steamboats attached to the Colleges, and also in the Training Cruisers.

29. In all subjects of instruction the principle will be followed of giving merit marks for current work. At the end of each term the Cadet's proficiency and progress will be tested, partly by examination and partly by the marks gained for current work.

30. The passing-out examination of Cadets is representative of all subjects studied at the College, with the exception of Religious Knowledge, which does not form part of the official examination. Marks for work done during previous terms are combined with the marks directly awarded in the examination.

First, Second and Third Classes will be awarded, and the class obtained in passing out counts afterwards towards promotion to the rank of Sub-Lieutenant, promotion being accelerated according to the following scale:—

For a First Class 2 months.
For a Second Class 1 month.

The greatest amount of time that can be gained on passing out is accordingly two months.

31. Cadets may be required to withdraw at any time if in the opinion of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty:—

- (1) They fail to reach a satisfactory standard, or
- (2) Their conduct is unsatisfactory, or
- (3) They are unsuitable for the Naval Service.

32. It is to be distinctly understood that the period of training, including the time spent in the Training Cruiser, is a time of probation, and the Parent or Guardian of every Cadet is required to sign a declaration on the admission of a Cadet to the effect that he shall be immediately withdrawn on the receipt of an official request for his withdrawal.

33. When a Cadet is found to be making insufficient progress a letter is sent to his Parent or Guardian warning him of the possibility of having to withdraw the Cadet unless a marked improvement takes place. This warning is generally issued a term in advance, to enable the Parent provisionally to make other arrangements for continuing the boy's education in case his withdrawal should become necessary.

By command of Their Lordships,

W. GRAHAM GREENE.

Admiralty,
August, 1913.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING SEXTANTS.

Cadets when entering on their fifth term at Dartmouth should already have procured a Sextant in a box, such instruments being obtained by Parents; a leather case is not necessary.

Any new Sextant must be approved by the Captain of the College and must have the following qualifications:—

1. Strong frame and well finished in all respects: all loose fittings to be stamped with the number.
2. Radius not to be less than $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches to middle of the graduation.
3. Arc distinctly cut, and to read to 10 seconds up to at least 125° on, and 5° off, the arc, the vernier being divided three divisions to the right of the index.
4. Shades to be of neutral tint and of satisfactory densities.
5. A star telescope (not inverting images) to be provided, and an inverting telescope with two eyepieces, one of which to have a magnifying power of at least 7 diameters. The telescopes and collar to be fitted with interrupted thread.
6. Adjusting screws to mirrors to be placed in positions as little exposed as possible, preferably at the base of the mirrors, to be recessed so as to be moved by a squared key or screw-driver and fitted with covers.
7. Two shades for eyepieces of different intensities to be ground conical, to slip on, not screw.
8. Handle to be of good size.
9. Each Sextant must be accompanied by a Kew Certificate, Class A.
10. A button over the handle besides the usual chocks for keeping the instrument in place when the lid is closed. Box to have recessed hooks for securing the lid, and a recessed handle.
11. No Sextants will be accepted in which the unsilvered portion of the horizon glass is absent, or the telescope so fitted as not to be entirely removable in one piece, and the horizon glass should have a minimum width of $1\frac{1}{4}$ inch.
12. The name of the owner to be on both Sextant and box.

Sextants possessing the necessary qualifications can be obtained from various makers.

A good $6\frac{1}{2}$ -inch instrument can be obtained for 7l. 10s.

Sextants presented to Cadets which have belonged to Parents or others are not required to conform rigidly to the standard, provided they are of radius not less than that prescribed and are considered suitable by the Captain of the College; but no Sextant can be accepted unless accompanied by a Kew Certificate, Class A.

SPECIAL ENTRY OF NAVAL CADETS.

In adjusting the supply of Naval Officers to the requirements of the fleet the fundamental condition is that, while it takes only two years to build a battleship, it takes about nine years from the time at which the cadet enters Osborne to make a naval lieutenant.

The scheme of training instituted by the Board of Admiralty in 1903, which is based on the principle of the common entry and training of executive and engineer officers and the abolition of the old distinctions between them, is well established as the main source of supply of officers, and it has now been sufficiently tested by results to demonstrate the general soundness of the ideas on which it was founded.

The scheme of 1903, however, taken by itself, like any scheme under which the boy has to receive a lengthy general education and professional training after admission to the Navy, lacks the elasticity as to numbers which would enable the supply of officers to keep pace with additional demands arising from the unexpected expansion of the fleet. It was not possible nine years ago to estimate with certainty the present requirements of the fleet; and a situation has in fact arisen which makes the forthcoming provision of officers, based on calculations made in the early years of the new scheme, insufficient for the evident wants of the fleet in the near future.

The new requirements of the Air and Submarine Services alone account for a substantial addition to the list. The establishment of the Dominion Navies has thrown an additional demand upon the list of the officers of the Royal Navy by whom the Dominion fleets will be in the first instance be organised and manned. The Cadets' Colleges are filled to their utmost capacity; and though it is necessary to consider their enlargement as a provision for future requirements, no step of the kind could possibly meet the more immediate necessity. It has, therefore, become imperative to turn to supplementary sources of supply by which the prospective shortage may be expeditiously countered.

The greatly augmented demand for officers resulting from the increased requirements above referred to, will be met in part by promotions from the lower deck and in part by absorption of officers of the R.N.R. from the Mercantile Marine; but estimates which have been prepared of the numbers of lieutenants likely to be wanted in the years from 1916 to 1920 show that after allowing for these supplements to the normal source of supply there will still be a deficiency, to meet which officers should be provided in some other manner, so as to be available for service by 1920.

It is proposed to make good this deficiency by means of the special entry of a limited number of cadets of about the same age of 18 who have completed their general education in the public schools or elsewhere. A number of such cadets not exceeding 30 annually will be admitted by competitive examination of selected candidates during this and each of the succeeding three years. They will be sent to a naval establishment for a course of professional training before being distributed as midshipmen in the fleet. Their service as midshipmen will be somewhat shortened in comparison with that of other midshipmen, in view of their greater maturity. The same subsequent career will be open to them as to officers who have entered through Osborne. They will be free to volunteer for service in any one of the special branches.

It is necessary to repeat that the scheme of special admissions is in the nature of an emergency measure, designed to prevent the shortage referred to above, and that the intention of the Board is to retain the Osborne-Dartmouth training for Naval officers.

A fundamental feature in the training of cadets entered at Osborne is its large scientific and engineering element. This not only fits the young officer for service in the engine-room, but gives him such an acquaintance with mechanical science as prepares him to handle intelligently the mechanical and electrical appliances of warships. It is highly important that officers entered in the manner now contemplated shall come to have as far as possible a like qualification.

With this view the entrance examination will be such as to attract candidates who have received at school a good grounding in mathematics, mechanics, and physics. The subjects of examination will be nearly identical with those prescribed for entry to Woolwich, and the same question papers will be assigned to an elementary knowledge of engineering science in addition to the usual Woolwich subjects.

Further, the course of training which these cadets will undergo after admission will consist largely of instruction of a practical kind in naval engineering and in the service applications of electricity.

The first special entry under these conditions will take place by competitive examination in June next. Candidates must be not less than 17½ nor more than 19 on the 1st of June. In 1914 and after, the upper limit of age will be 18½. The names of candidates should be sent in addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, Whitehall, S.W., so as to reach him on or before April 30th.

An Admiralty Committee will interview each candidate and examine credentials furnished by the headmaster of the school he is attending or last attended. A report will be obtained beforehand from the headmaster for the information of the Committee as to the candidate's conduct, abilities, past training and general promise of suitability. On the report of this Committee it will be determined whether the candidate shall be admitted to compete. Candidates must also pass the usual medical tests.

Candidates admitted to compete will present themselves for examination in June by the Civil Service Commissioners in the following subjects:—

	Marks.
English	2,000
English history and geography ...	2,000
French or German or Latin ...	2,000
Mathematics:—
Elementary	2,000
Intermediate	2,000
Higher (optional)	2,000
Science (physics and chemistry) ...	2,000
Elementary engineering (optional) ...	2,000

Both papers marked optional may be taken. Candidates will not be excluded who do not take the papers marked optional, but no candidate will be accepted who does not show a competent knowledge of mathematics as well as obtain a satisfactory aggregate in the examination.

Certificate A obtained in the "Officers' Training Corps" will entitle the holder to an addition of 200 marks.

The question papers (except in elementary engineering) will be the same as those taken in corresponding subjects in the military entrance examinations, particulars of which can be obtained from the Civil Service Commissioners, Burlington Gardens, W.

The paper on elementary engineering will comprise questions in the subjects of the attached schedule. The questions will be of a very elementary character, and knowledge of workshop practice will be required.

Candidates who are successful in the competition will be admitted as naval cadets to a course of training. They will then be distributed for service as midshipmen in the fleet. They will become midshipmen later in age than cadets who enter through Osborne, but their service in that rank will be shorter, with the general result that except for the effect of the accelerated promotion which they may obtain by doing well in their final examinations, their age will usually be about a year more on attaining the rank of Lieutenant. This will be no bar to their advancement according to merit.

Information respecting the pay and expenses of naval officers may be obtained from the Secretary of the Admiralty.

March 1913.

REGULATIONS FOR THE SPECIAL ENTRY OF NAVAL CADETS.

1. Candidates for admission in 1913 must be not more than 19 nor less than 17½ years of age on the 1st of June, 1913. No nomination is required. Applications should be made to the Secretary of the Admiralty, Whitehall, S.W., if possible before the 1st April, but will be accepted up to the 30th April. A form of application to be filled in by the parent or guardian of the candidate may be obtained from the Admiralty.

2. Candidates must be of pure European descent, and the sons either of natural-born or naturalised British subjects. In doubtful cases the burden of clear proof will rest upon the Candidate.

Candidates must be unmarried.

3. Applicants who satisfy these conditions will be invited to appear before a Committee at the Admiralty who will determine whether they will be admitted to compete. Candidates will be required to pass at the same time a Medical Examination, according to the prescribed regulations, as to their physical fitness for the Navy.

4. Every candidate must be in good health, and free from any physical defect of body, impediment of speech, defect of sight or hearing, and also from any predisposition to constitutional or hereditary disease or weakness of any kind, and be in all respects well developed and active in proportion to his age.

It should be particularly noted that full normal vision—as determined by Smellen's tests—is required for Candidates for Naval Cadetships. A memorandum is issued by the Admiralty which gives details of the physical requirements of Candidates.

5. Candidates admitted to compete will present themselves for examination in June by the Civil Service Commissioners. Particulars of the examination can be obtained from the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, Burlington Gardens, W. (See also Appendix I. attached.)

By arrangement between the Admiralty and the War Office a candidate who is admitted to compete in the examination for special entry as a Naval Cadet may, if he so desires, and provided he fulfils all the necessary conditions, present himself at the same time for admission to the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, or Royal Military College, Sandhurst, or to Supplementary first appointments in the Royal Marines, in which case he must express definitely his order of preference* before the examination has begun. GEORGETOWN, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19TH, 1913.

Government Notice.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Georgetown, Demerara,
18th November, 1913.

521.
THE following Bill, which it is proposed to introduce into the Court of Policy, is hereby published for general information.

By Command,

C. CLEMENTI,
Government Secretary.

A BILL ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE TO MAKE PROVISION FOR THE ISSUE OF BANK NOTES."

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM.

The object of this Bill is to provide a general banking law for the colony and to regulate the issue of bank notes by banking corporations or companies. There is at present no such general provision. The two existing banks have their own special Ordinances but there is nothing to prevent an unauthorized issue by any person or by any company not debarred from doing so by its charter of incorporation. Under the proposed law the right of issuing notes will be confined to existing banks authorized by Ordinance and to such banking companies or corporations as deposit security at par value for the amount issued. Notes must be of a minimum value of five dollars. The right of the Government to issue notes is not interfered with.

Power is given to the Secretary of State by Clause 11 to dispense with or to reduce the statutory security if he is satisfied that sufficient security has already been given under the law of any British possession. The draft is based upon the similar Ordinances of Trinidad and Barbados.

A BILL ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE TO MAKE PROVISION FOR THE ISSUE OF BANK NOTES."

BE it enacted by the Governor of British Guiana, with the advice and consent of the Court of Policy thereof, as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Bank Notes Ordinance, 1913.

2. In this Ordinance unless the context requires a different construction, the term "Bank Note" shall extend and apply to all bills or notes for the payment of money to bearer on demand, issued by any banker.

"Banker" shall mean any company incorporated by Charter, or under the authority of an Act of Parliament or the law of any colony, carrying on the business of banking.

Penalty for any but a banker, as defined, making or issuing bank notes.

3. It shall not be lawful for any company, corporation, society, partnership or person, not being a banker as defined by this Ordinance, to make or issue bank notes in this colony. Any company, corporation, society, partnership, or person making or issuing bank notes contrary to this section shall be liable to a penalty of two thousand five hundred dollars.

Penalty for making or issuing bank notes otherwise than in accordance with this Ordinance.

4. Any banker making and issuing bank notes in this colony, otherwise than subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, shall be liable to a penalty of two thousand five hundred dollars.

5. No banker shall issue any bank notes of his bank or circulate or cause to be put in circulation any bank notes of his bank in this colony without the permission in writing of the Governor-in-Council.

Procedure by banker desiring to issue bank notes.

6.--(1.) Whenever a banker desires to issue bank notes in this colony, he shall

(a.) Notify in writing to the Government Secretary the amount in value and the denomination in currency of the bank notes he proposes to issue, and the date of such intended issue, and

(b.) Deposit, and thenceforth at all times keep deposited in such manner and in such proportion as the Governor-in-Council may direct either with the Crown Agents for the Colonies in London, or with Trustees in the colony to be appointed by the Governor-in-Council with the approval of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, or partly with the Crown Agents and partly with such Trustees, a fund to be called "The Bank Note Reserve Fund," consisting of coin, being current gold coin of the United Kingdom or of any British possession, or of securities to be approved by the Governor, or partly of such coin and partly of such securities, equal to not less than the amount in value of the bank notes intended to be issued or for the time being in circulation. Provided that it shall be lawful for the Governor-in-Council to call upon a banker to make up his Bank Note Reserve Fund to the full value of his note issue, whenever it may be found that such Reserve Fund has fallen below the full value by reason of the depreciation in the market value of deposited securities.

(2.) The notice calling upon a banker to make up his Bank Note Reserve Fund to its proper amount shall be in writing, and shall be given on behalf of the Governor by the Government Secretary; and if a banker fails, within twenty-one days from the date of his receipt of such notice, to comply with the demands contained therein, he shall be liable to a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars for every day during which he fails to satisfy the legal requirements of such notice.

(3.) The Governor-in-Council shall publish in the Gazette a statement of the securities approved by him, and of any changes in the same which may from time to time be made.

(4.) The Governor-in-Council may from time to time direct that any uninvested portion of the Bank Note Reserve Fund or such amount thereof as he may prescribe shall be kept in the colony.

7. The amount of bank notes issued under this Ordinance by any banker shall in no case exceed the amount of the paid-up capital of the bank making such issue.

Issue of bank notes limited to paid-up capital of bank.
Minimum value.

8. No bank note issued under the provisions of this Ordinance shall be of a less value than five dollars.

9. The Bank Note Reserve Fund shall be held by the Crown Agents for the Colonies, or by the Trustees separately or jointly, as a special fund, primarily available for and liable to the satisfaction of the claims of the holders of bank notes issued as aforesaid; but any net income derived from the fund, either from interest on deposits of the coin, or on the securities or otherwise, after payment of necessary expenses of administration, shall be the property of the banker by whom such coin or securities have been deposited. In the event of a banker failing to pay his bank notes when presented, or becoming bankrupt or insolvent, or ceasing to carry on business as such banker in this colony, the securities (if any) may be realised by the Crown Agents, or the Trustees, and the fund shall be applied, so far as may be necessary, to the redemption of the bank notes of such banker, without prejudice to the rights of the holders of such bank notes against any uncalled capital of the banker, and to their rights of ranking with other creditors of the banker against his general assets. Subject to this primary liability, the fund shall be applicable as part of the general assets of the banker.

Inspection, etc., of banker's books, etc.

10. Such part of the books of any banker who shall issue bank notes under this Ordinance as may contain any entry relating to the bank notes issued or to be issued by such banker or relating to the amount of such bank notes in circulation from time to time, or any account, minute, or memorandum, the sight or inspection whereof may tend to ensure the rendering or taking of true accounts for any period of the average amount of such bank notes in circulation, or to test the truth of any such account, shall be open for the inspection and examination at all reasonable times of any person authorized in that behalf by writing signed by the Government Secretary; and every such authorized person shall be at liberty to take copies or extracts from any such book or account as aforesaid. If any banker or other person keeping any such books or having the custody or possession thereof, or power to produce the same shall, upon demand made by any such authorized person showing if demanded, his authority in that behalf, refuse to produce any such book to him for his inspection and examination, or to permit him to inspect and examine the same, or to take copies thereof, or extracts therefrom, or of or from such account, minute, or memorandum, as aforesaid, he shall for every such offence forfeit a sum of five hundred dollars; provided always that the Government Secretary shall not exercise or cause to be exercised the powers aforesaid without the consent of the Governor-in-Council.

Penalty for issuing bank notes in excess of amount authorized.

11. Whenever a banker shall issue bank notes in excess of the amount authorized by the provisions of this Ordinance, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars a day for every day during which such excess of any sum not exceeding five thousand dollars shall continue, and a further sum of twenty-five dollars a day, for every day during which such excess shall continue, for any portion of each additional sum of five thousand dollars in bank notes so issued in excess.

Secretary of State for the Colonies may dispense with requirements of this Ordinance in certain cases.

12. Whenever it is proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, that by the law of any British possession the redemption of bank notes issued by a banker, having his principal establishment in such British possession, and issuing notes under the law of the said possession, and desirous of doing business as such banker in this colony, is sufficiently secured, as well in this colony as in the said possession, it shall be lawful for the said Secretary of State, upon the application of such banker, to dispense either wholly or in part with the requirements of this Ordinance in regard to the deposit of security against the issue of bank notes ; and after such dispensation shall have been notified in the Gazette, such requirements shall, to the extent specified in the said notice, be thereupon dispensed with.

Provided nevertheless that the Secretary of State for the Colonies may revoke any dispensation granted under this section to any banker, and thereupon such banker shall comply with the requirements of this Ordinance.

13. A banker to whom the provisions of this Ordinance apply shall publish twice in every year, on such dates as the Governor-in-Council shall appoint, publish in the Gazette and one of the daily papers circulating in this colony a true and full statement of the banker's half-yearly accounts. If the banker fails to comply with the requirements of this section within twenty-one days of the date appointed by the Governor-in-Council for so doing, he shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for every day for which such publication is delayed.

Publication
by banker of half-yearly accounts.

Penalty.

14. This Ordinance shall not apply to the Colonial Bank, or to the British Guiana Bank.

Recovery of penalties and forfeitures.

GENERAL CIVIL JURISDICTION.

THIS 10TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

JAMONIE,
versus
BARRACAT.

The following judgment was delivered :—

RAYNER, C.J. : In this case the plaintiff seeks to set aside a judgment of the Magistrate's Court at Belfield dated the 10th March, 1909, and the Writ of Execution against her immoveable property issued upon the judgment.

The present defendant Barracat issued a summons against one "Jummoney" for $32 money lent and obtained judgment by default. Execution was issued against the immoveable property of the present plaintiff, but no goods were found and the bailiff accordingly made a return to that effect. Barracat then petitioned the Supreme Court for leave to issue execution against the immoveable property of his debtor, and an order was made by a Judge granting him leave and a writ was accordingly issued and the plaintiff's house and land were levied on and sold under it. It is this judgment and levy which she seeks to have set aside.

The plaintiff says she was never served with the summons in this case and knew nothing about the proceedings in it till the bailiff, one Birmingham, came to levy on her moveable property. She says that when the bailiff came to her house to levy, she went to the defendant and he told her that it was not she, but another Jamonie that he had summoned. If this is true it is clear that the present plaintiff was not judgment debtor in the case at Belfield, and that her property was wrongly levied upon for the debt of someone else.

It is therefore necessary first to consider the question of fact and to ascertain whether the plaintiff was or was not the person summoned by Barracat in that case. The evidence satisfies me that she was not.

This is not a case of a plaintiff suing a debtor whom he did not know well, and whose correct address he might be doubtful about. Here the defendant had known the plaintiff nearly all her life, and had been married to her, in accordance with the custom of his people, when she was a little girl, and had lived with her for a short time. They had both lived in Ann's Grove not far from each other for many years, except for a couple of years when the plaintiff lived at Plantation Hope. The defendant must have known where she lived, and yet in his summons he gives her address as "Victoria back," a place at which she and her witnesses say she had never lived. He evidently got a policeman to serve the summons on someone at Victoria back, for we have before us the return of service which shows that someone was served with it, who I am satisfied was not the plaintiff.

But in addition to this we have the admission of the defendant made to the plaintiff, in the presence of the bailiff, Birmingham, that she was not the Jamonie he had summoned. She is corroborated as to this by two witnesses, but Mr. Brown strongly pressed on us that Birmingham ought to have been called, and that in his absence we ought not to find that the defendant made this admission. But it was open to either side to call Birmingham, and Mr. Brown could himself have called him had he wanted. But the most significant point is that the defendant himself, though in Court, did not go into the witness box and deny what the plaintiff said. He knows what really happened and yet he did not dare to give evidence about it. His conduct from first to last in these proceedings has been most suspicious and as he has not ventured to deny the truth of what the plaintiff and her witnesses have alleged, I have no hesitation in accepting her story. But this is not all, for in 1910, after he had issued the summons in the case we are enquiring into, the defendant sued the plaintiff for a debt which she admits she owed him and which she has since paid, and in the summons in that case he describes her correctly as living at Ann's Grove. We have no explanation why he describes her correctly in the one case and incorrectly in the other. I am satisfied that the defendant's conduct was fraudulent and that he knew the plaintiff had never been served with the summons and yet he got judgment and levied on her property. On the evidence therefore, I find as a fact that the plaintiff was not the "Jummoney" whom the defendant sued and on whom the summons was served.

There is no evidence to show that there was any irregularity in the proceedings up to the judgment in the above case, and I am prepared to believe that all the steps in it were regularly and properly taken against the Jummoney whom the defendant sued for the $32. The judgment therefore cannot be set aside but remains valid and can be enforced if the defendant can find the person against whom it was given. No order can be made upon that part of the plaintiff's claim which seeks to set aside the judgment, that is, paragraph 9 (a) of the Statement of Claim.

But the case is otherwise with regard to paragraph 9 (b), which claims that the execution and sale should be set aside. It is clear that the execution and sale was made against the property of someone who was not the person against whom judgment had been given, and the question now is whether the execution can be set aside. Mr. Brown contends that as the levy and sale have been made in conformity with the rules relating to execution, and that as the proper notices and advertisements were given, and as the plaintiff did not enter any opposition, it is now too late for her to intervene, and that the sale should be confirmed and Letters of Decree issued to the defendant.

I am aware that there are decisions of this Court which have laid it down that where Letters of Decree have been issued, the person to whom they are issued gets a good title to the land, which cannot be impeached even though the land in question is not the land of the judgment debtor. Here, however, no Letters of Decree have yet been issued, but even where they have been issued, it has always been held that they can be set aside for fraud, and as I have already said, I am satisfied that the defendant's conduct was fraudulent, and that he caused the levy to be made on the plaintiff's property, knowing she had never been served with the summons, and having himself told her she was not the Jamonie he was proceeding against. The execution must therefore be set aside.

In this view of the case it is not necessary to consider the point which was mentioned as to whether an appeal lies from the order of a Judge made on a petition, the order for execution to issue against immoveable property having been made on a petition presented to a Judge by the defendant. It is not necessary either to consider another point which might arise, as to whether this Court has power in an action of this kind, to set aside a judgment of a Magistrate's Court. It might be contended that such a judgment can only be set aside in one of the ways prescribed by law, such as an appeal under the Ordinance governing appeals from Magistrates' Courts or by the Magistrate himself under the powers conferred on him by the Petty Debts Recovery Ordinance. It is certainly open to doubt whether we have power to set it aside in an action of this kind, but we need not decide that point now, as it is not necessary to set aside the judgment, and it can stand for whatever it is worth to the defendant. But execution against immoveable property can only issue out of this Court, and in this case the defendant petitioned a Judge of this Court for leave to issue the execution and leave was granted. The execution having been issued out of this Court this Court has full power over it and has jurisdiction to set it aside, and for the reasons I have given, I think it ought to be set aside.

There will be no order on that part of the plaintiff's claim which asks for the judgment to be set aside, but the execution and all the proceedings under it are set aside, and the property of the plaintiff taken in execution under it is ordered to be restored to her, and the defendant is ordered to pay the costs of the action.

EARNshaw, J. : The plaintiff asks that a judgment of a Magistrate, followed by a levy and sale of immoveable property under a fiat of the Supreme Court, in favour of the defendant be set aside.

I do not see how on proceedings of this nature this Court has power to set aside the judgment obtained in the Magistrate's Court, but as regards the levy and sale I have no doubt this Court has power to deal with that question and set them aside if necessary.

This Court can always interfere to prevent abuse of its practice. The defendant obtained judgment against one Jummoney, of Victoria Back, for $32 and costs, and is trying to enforce this judgment against the present plaintiff one Jamonie, of Ann's Grove.

Judgment was obtained by default in the Magistrate's Court against Jummoney, of Victoria Back, and the affidavit of service in those proceedings shows that the summons was served on one Jummoney, at Victoria.

The present plaintiff at that time lived at Ann's Grove, as Barracat well knew, and she swears that she was never served with the summons in that case, and knew nothing about the proceedings therein until the bailiff went and made demand under a writ of execution.

She further says that on receiving this demand, she went to the defendant and was told by him that a mistake had been made, and it was another Jummoney or Jemonie against whom he had obtained judgment.

That evidence of the plaintiff is supported by other witnesses and in the absence of any contradiction thereof by the defendant who did not give any evidence. I unhesitatingly accept it as true and act upon it.

It is quite true that the plaintiff ought to have taken steps in opposition when her property was advertised for sale under the fiat of the Supreme Court. That is certainly the proper procedure and should be observed if possible.

She however took no steps until after the sale when the property had been purchased by the defendant; and then she petitioned the Chief Justice against the granting of Letters of Decree.

The grant of the Letters of Decree was stayed and this action instituted.

I find on the evidence that the present plaintiff was never served with a summons in the case of Barracat v. Jummoney, of Victoria Back, and that the judgment then obtained was not obtained against the present plaintiff. That judgment may stand for what it is worth against Jummoney, of Victoria Back, if such a person exists.

I find also that the present plaintiff was lulled into security by the present defendant when proceeding to enforce that judgment were instituted against her. The conduct of the defendant in my opinion led the plaintiff not to take any steps in opposition to the levy and sale.

The plaintiff pleads that she was not even aware of the advertisement of sale in the Official Gazette.

Under the circumstances her omission to take proceedings by way of opposition is explained, and in order to prevent the defendant from taking advantage of what apparently amounts to fraud and concealment on his part, I, in agreement with the other members of the Court, decide that the levy and sale should be set aside as prayed in para. 9 (b) of the statement of claim with costs against the defendant.

J. K. D. HILL, Acting J.: The plaintiff in this matter seeks to set aside a judgment obtained against her in the Magistrate's Court at Belfield in the East Coast Judicial District, and also a levy and sale at execution of certain immoveable property at Ann's Grove seized in consequence of such judgment.

She alleges she owed defendant nothing at the time he obtained judgment by default against one Jummoney, in the Court at Belfield and the part she knew of the transaction was that her property was levied on or sold to defendant for $100. She lives at Ann's Grove while the Jummoney sued resided at Victoria Back.

She alleges she did owe him at a subsequent date a certain sum for which he got judgment and which she paid to him. He in his statement of defence denies this but her witness proves incontestably that her allegations are correct and defendant has not gone into the witness-box to deny this evidence.

She states in her evidence that within some three years after judgment in the first matter (and after she had settled the judgment against her of which she knew) the bailiff attempted to levy, she showed him her receipt for the debt she had admitted, that defendant on being interviewed by her said it was a debt due by another Jamonie.

She is corroborated in this by her witness, but defendant has not felt able to deny those statements on oath. It is a good rule of evidence that when one party to an action has the opportunity of denying on oath statement made by the opposite side and does not avail himself of the opportunity these statements must be taken as substantiated. The defendant has no doubt been fraudulent. This fraud may have commenced by the institution of a petition suit against the plaintiff, or there may have been some other person of the same name as plaintiff, but it certainly commenced when he or his agent gave instructions to levy on the plaintiff's immoveable property.

The contention of counsel for defendant that the plaintiff had her remedy under Order 36, Rules 42 and 43 is untenable. She knew nothing of the transaction until her property had been taken and sold. She had been satisfied by defendant's assurance that the judgment was not against her but another person of the same name.

Order 36, Rules 42 and 43 supply a remedy before sale, but restitutio in integrum is applicable after sale. This is what the Court will do in this matter, and while the judgment against a woman named Jummoney will stand—the levy and sale of plaintiff's immoveable property will be set aside—with costs against defendant.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY'S OFFICE,

Georgetown, Demerara,

523. 17th November, 1913.

HIS Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following Agreement between the Government of Canada and the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company for a Steamship Service between Canada and the British West Indies:—

Contractors.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made this eleventh day of September, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirteen.

Between the Honourable the Minister of Trade and Commerce of the Dominion of Canada (hereinafter referred to as "The Minister," which expression shall include the Minister of Trade and Commerce of the said Dominion for the time being), acting for and on behalf of His Majesty, of the one part, and Messrs. The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, of 16 Moorgate Street, London, England, Shipowners, (hereinafter referred to as "The Contractors,") of the other part.

Witnesseth, that for and in consideration of the covenants, agreements, stipulations and reservations hereinafter contained on the part of His Majesty, the Contractors for themselves and their successors or assigns do covenant and agree to and with His Majesty, His Heirs and Successors, in manner and form and to the effect following, that is to say:—

Steamers.

1. The Contractors shall, on or about the first day of November in the present year, place upon the route between the port of St. John, in the Province of New Brunswick, and the port of Halifax, in the Province of Nova Scotia, as ports of departure in the Dominion of Canada; and Georgetown in British Guiana, as the port of arrival, one of the steamships of British register hereinafter described in Clause two, and will thereafter place three other steamships in the said service as speedily as practicable of like class, character and speed (it being understood and agreed that the Contractors will endeavour to place the said three other steamships in commission in the said service in succeeding intervals of thirty days) and will with the said four steamships, or other steamships subject to the approval of the Minister, until the 31st day of October, in the year 1918, perform the following service commencing from the port of St. John, in the Province of New Brunswick, and sailing from the said port, thence to Halifax, in the Province of Nova Scotia, sailing from the last mentioned port to Georgetown, in British Guiana, every fourteen days, following alternately the itineraries described in paragraphs (a) and (b) hereinafter.

Ports of Call.

(a) Calling at the following islands:—

Bermuda, St. Kitts, Antigua, Montserrat, Dominica, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Barbados, Grenada and Trinidad, and returning from Georgetown to St. John, calling at Trinidad, Grenada, Barbados, Antigua, St. Kitts and Bermuda.

(b) Calling at the following islands:—

Bermuda, St. Kitts, Antigua, Barbados, Grenada and Trinidad; and returning from Georgetown, calling at the following islands: Trinidad, Barbados, St. Vincent, St. Lucia, Dominica, Montserrat, Antigua, St. Kitts and Bermuda.

It is understood and agreed that the itineraries as set forth in (a) and (b) as above shall be subject to any change which may be mutually agreed upon between the Minister and the Contractors.

Description of Steamers.

2. The Contractors shall place on the said route the four steamships of British register referred to in Clause 1, each of which shall be of not less than four thousand seven hundred (4,700) gross tons register, and five thousand (5,000) tons cargo capacity, with passenger accommodation for not less than forty (40) first class, sixty (60) second class and ninety (90) third class passengers; the said steamships being fitted with adequate refrigerator chambers and electric light, modern convenience, and wireless telegraphy; and capable of maintaining an average speed of eleven (11) knots.

Freight Charges.

3. It is further understood and agreed that the Contractors shall at all times, when so required by the consignors and at the expense of the Contractors, pay the freight charges by rail from St. John to Halifax on butter, cheese and fruit, when such commodities are intended for shipment by the Contractors' steamships.

Delay.

4. It is understood and agreed that the Contractors shall make every reasonable effort to avoid undue delay at Canadian or West Indian terminal ports, or ports of call; and in the event of an unusual delay at any of the said ports the Contractors shall furnish the minister with satisfactory evidence in explanation of the cause of such delay.

Financial Statements.

5. It is further understood and agreed that the Contractors whenever so required shall furnish the Minister with such financial statement or statements as he may desire from time to time respecting all revenues derived from and all expenditures in connection with the conduct of the service herein provided for.

Trade Commissioners.

6. The Canadian Trade Commissioners and their wives and children, or Canadian Commercial Agents, shall be granted free transportation, meals included, with first-class accommodation, and free transportation for their household effects upon any steamships employed by the Contractors in the performance of this contract, when requested so to do by the Minister, and when the said Commissioner or Commercial Agent is travelling upon his official duties or being transferred from one official post to another.

Intercolonial Railway.

7. It is hereby agreed by the Contractors that as the aid herein expressed and provided for by the Canadian Government is for the express purpose of encouraging the development of Canadian trade and the transportation of Canadian goods through Canadian channels, the company accepts the aid on these conditions and agrees that all freight booked or carried by the said steamships from a port in the British West Indies shall, when not otherwise expressly routed by shippers or consignees, be delivered to the Intercolonial Railway at Halifax or St. John for shipment to final destination in Canada; provided that the rates demanded by the Intercolonial Railway shall not be in excess of the rates charged by any other Railway Company from the said ports to final destination in Canada.

Contractors are to hand over to the Intercolonial Railway at Halifax or St. John passengers for points in the Maritime Provinces or the Province of Quebec, providing the routing of such passengers is controlled by the Contractors and that they are not otherwise routed. It is further agreed that the Contractors, through their Agents in Canada, shall see that they have all such freight for export as may be secured by them for a port in the British West Indies, at which the subsidised line may call, delivered to the Intercolonial Railway at Montreal.

Rate of Speed.

8. The Contractors bind themselves to run each of the four steamships hereinbefore referred to at an average speed of 11 knots in the performance of the service herein contracted for, unless in the opinion of the Captain of the respective steamships the said rate of speed would endanger life or the safety of the ship, or unless the speed of the ship is delayed by reason of stress of weather or by assisting ships in distress, in any of which events the Contractors shall submit to the Minister the Captain's explanation of the cause of the delay or such other evidence as the Minister may require to enable him to determine, and the Minister upon such explanation and evidence shall determine whether the circumstances were such as justified the Captain's reduction of the speed of the voyage or sufficiently explain the delay in completing the voyage.

Developing Trade.

9. It is further understood and agreed that the Contractors shall use their utmost endeavour to develop the cargo and passenger trade between Canada and the British West Indies by means of reasonable advertising and regular solicitation through agents.

Through Rates of Freight.

10. It is further understood and agreed that the Contractors shall use their best endeavour to arrange through rates of freight to and from inland points in Canada, to and from the various ports of call referred to in this contract in the British West Indies and Central and South America.

Transfer by Connecting Lines.

11. It is further understood and agreed that inasmuch as the design of this agreement is to give regular fortnightly communication both ways to all the ports mentioned in the schedule set forth in Clause 1, the Contractors shall arrange for the transport of freight and passengers on all voyages south bound and north bound by transfer to the lines of the Contractor's steamers conducting the Insular service from and to the Port of Trinidad, and at the rates obtaining for the direct service.

No Discrimination.

12. It is further understood and agreed that no discrimination of any kind as regards freight or passenger rates shall be made in favour of any merchant, shipper or importer in any one of the British Colonies referred to herein as against any other merchant, shipper or importer in the same Colony.

Subsidy.

13. Subject to the further conditions, stipulations and reservations herein provided His Majesty, for Himself, His Heirs and Successors, covenants with the Contractors, their successors and assigns, that the Contractors and their successors well and faithfully performing all and every the covenants and stipulations herein on the part of the Contractors set forth and contained, He will well and truly pay or cause to be paid to the Contractors their successors and assigns, a Subsidy not exceeding the sum of Seventy Thousand pounds (£70,000) sterling ($340,666.66) per annum, based on payment at the rate of Two Thousand Six Hundred and Ninety-two pounds, six shillings, two pence (£2,692 6s. 2d.) sterling ($13,102.56) for each completed round voyage, such instalments to be payable on the last day of each month during the continuance of this contract.

Deductions.

Provided, however, that in the event of failure on the part of the Contractors in any respect to perform the service herein contracted to be performed, or any portion thereof, a proportionate deduction shall be made from the subsidy in respect of the service not performed; and provided further that if any expense shall be incurred by His Majesty for the conveyance of mails between the points herein mentioned as terminal ports or ports en route by reason of neglect on the part of the Contractors to perform the said Service or any portion thereof, then all such expense so incurred shall be deducted from the subsidy herein agreed to be paid, and provided further, that it is the true intent and meaning of these Presents, that none of the instalments of subsidy herein agreed to be paid shall become payable until the Contractors shall have furnished to the Minister properly certified and authentic vouchers and documents, showing to the satisfaction of the Minister that up to the time of such instalment becoming due, as herein stipulated, the said service herein agreed to be performed has been fully, completely and faithfully executed and performed, according to the true intent and meaning of these Presents; and provided also that no amount of instalment or subsidy shall be payable at any time unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Minister that up to the time of such payment there has been no breach on the part of the Contractors of any of the covenants, provisions or stipulations of this Contract, and that the decision of the Minister in that regard shall be absolute, binding, final and conclusive upon the Contractors, their successors and assigns.

No Subsidy from Other Sources.

14. The Contractors shall not in respect of the service receive or accept any subsidy or aid pecuniary or otherwise from any of the British Colonies affected by this Contract (other than the Dominion of Canada) or any foreign country or any provincial civil or municipal authority, or any person or persons or corporation or corporations; and should any such subsidy or aid be received by the Contractors, the Minister may deduct the amount thereof from the amount of the next payment or payments due and owing under this Contract, and so from time to time and as often as the Contractors receive such subsidy or aid from any colonial or foreign Government, provincial, civil or municipal authority or any person or persons or corporation or corporations, but this provision is not to be deemed as a permission or authority for the Contractors receiving any such subsidy or aid.

Schedule of Freight Rates.

15. The Contractors shall at least three weeks prior to the first sailing under this contract furnish the Minister with a schedule of the freight rates proposed to be charged between the different ports on both North and South bound trips, which schedule shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Minister, and after being approved by him shall not be changed except with his consent; and the Minister may at any time, if he deem it advisable, fix the maximum rates to be charged on any articles or class of goods; and the Contractors shall carry between the ports hereinbefore named, on all voyages of the said steamships employed under the terms of this Contract, all passengers or freight that may be offered or that can reasonably be procured, at rates which shall not be in excess of such maximum rates as fixed by the Minister, should he deem it advisable to so fix such maximum rates, and in no case shall any discrimination be made as regards rates, or otherwise, directly or indirectly against Canadian merchants or shippers, who shall always have precedence for their freight and goods over all other merchants and shippers; and it is agreed and understood that the freight rates on South-bound trips, sailing from Halifax or St. John as hereinbefore provided, on Through Bills of Lading from any places in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec or from any Canadian points farther West, shall in no case be greater than from the same place via any United States routes or ports; and on North-bound trips the rates from any port in the British West Indies to any place in Ontario and Quebec or other Canadian points farther West, shall be as favourable as via any United States route or port, to the same place; and it is further understood and agreed that the said steamers shall not carry between the ports hereinbefore stipulated, on any voyage run under the terms of this Contract, either Deals or Lumber or Timber to a greater extent than fifty per cent. of the total quantity of the cargo carried on such voyage, and such quantity only in case other Canadian products are not offering or cannot be obtained. Provided, however, that in the event of other cargo not being obtainable, satisfactory evidence of that fact being furnished to the Minister, then the Contractors shall be allowed to make up the balance of the cargo with Deals, Boards or Timber.

Through Bills of Lading.

16. It is further understood and agreed that the Contractors shall issue Through Bills of Lading from any Canadian point of shipment to any port in Central or South America, which are regular ports of call, for any of the steamships employed or controlled by the Contractors on other services and which make regular connections with the service herein contracted for.

Equipment.

17. The steamers to be employed as herein specified, shall at all times during the continuance of this Contract be fully sea-worthy, well officered, manned, victualled, equipped, provided and furnished, having regard to the service which the Contractors have hereby undertaken to perform, and shall have ample and suitable accommodation for the passengers, mails and freights to be carried over the routes specified; and shall, at all times, carry boats and life-saving appliances in compliance with the law, and shall be in all respects subject to the approval of the Minister.

British Subjects.

18. It is further understood and agreed by the Contractors that two-thirds of the total number of officers, engineers, stewards, crew or other employees whatsoever upon the steamships engaged in the performance of the service herein contracted for, shall be British subjects, but the non-observance of this clause shall not constitute a violation of this contract in such individual cases as may from time to time be approved by the Minister in writing.

Conveyance of Mails.

19. The Contractors shall, during the performance of this Contract, convey on each and every trip of the steamers performing the aforementioned services, both on outward and homeward voyages, all such mails as shall be tendered to the proper officers or persons in that behalf on the said steamers by or on behalf of or under the direction of the Postal Authorities of Canada, or of those at the terminal ports or ports of call herein referred to, and shall deliver all such mails at their proper destination at the terminal ports or ports of call above referred to; and the expense of carrying such mails from the post offices or railway stations to the Steamers and from the Steamers to the post offices or railway stations at the terminal ports and at the ports of call shall be borne by the Contractors, who will be subject to all general and special regulations now or hereafter existing during the continuance of this Contract in connection with the postal service. FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF ALL SUCH MAILS NO PAYMENT SHALL BE MADE OR REQUIRED OVER OR BEYOND THE AMOUNT OF SUBSIDY HEREIN MENTIONED OR PROVIDED FOR.

Accommodation for Mails.

20. The said Steamers shall be provided with sufficient and convenient accommodation and protection for all such mails to the satisfaction of the Honourable the Postmaster General of Canada.

for the time being, and the Contractors shall further take all reasonable and necessary precautions for the protection of such mails while upon the said Steamers or while in the Contractors' charge or custody, from loss, damage or injury in any way, and the Contractors shall be responsible for any loss or damage thereto caused by negligence or want of proper care or accommodation on the part of the Contractors, their agents or servants, or on the part of the officers, employees or crew on board the said Steamers, and this without regard to any question as to the legal liability of the Postmaster General to the owners of the articles of mail matter contained in such mails for damage or loss sustained in transit.

Definition of Mails.

21. The expression "mails" for the purpose of this Contract shall be deemed to mean and include all boxes, bags, baskets or packets of or containing letters, postcards, newspapers, parcels, books or printed paper, and all other articles which under the Post Office Act and postal regulations for the time being in force are transmissible by post in Canada, without regard to place, either of origin or destination, and also all empty bags, empty boxes, and other receptacles, stores and articles used or to be used in carrying on the post office service or which shall ordinarily be sent by or to or from the post offices.

Restriction re Mails.

22. The Contractors shall not, nor shall any of their agents or servants, or officers or crew of the said Steamers receive or permit to be received on board of the said Steamers any letters for conveyance other than those contained in His Majesty's mails or which are or may be privileged by law, nor the mails of any other country, except such as are specified by the Postmaster General of Canada for the time being.

524. 21st November, 1913.

HIS Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following correspondence with the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the subject of assistance in connection with Reciprocal Trade Relation and Direct Steam Communication with Canada:—

From the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Georgetown, Demerara,
6th June, 1913.

Sir,—I have the honour to transmit herewith, for the signification of His Majesty's pleasure, authenticated copies of British Guiana Ordinance No. 8 of 1913, entitled "An Ordinance to fix a Tariff of Duties on Goods imported into this Colony" together with the report of the Attorney General thereon and his certificate that my assent could properly be given thereto.

2. This Ordinance, which gives effect to the Reciprocity Agreement with Canada, was passed in Combined Court on the 13th instant, and has been fixed, by Proclamation, to come into force on the 2nd June, the date on which, I have been informed by the Canadian Government, the Agreement comes into force in Canada.

3. Section 23 of this Ordinance repeals the Customs Duties Ordinance No. 2 of 1913, authenticated copies of which were transmitted to you in my despatch No. 94 of the 8th April.

4. The benefit of the preferential tariff created under the Agreement with Canada is extended by this Ordinance to the United Kingdom and I venture to suggest that in return sugar produced in British Guiana should be placed in the Home Market on an equal footing with beet sugar produced in the United Kingdom; which, as pointed out in my despatch No. 55 of the 27th February last, this Colony has been led to expect would always be the case; and that in return for the advantages of the preferential tariff some contribution might be granted towards the subsidy required to establish a line of fast steamers for Mails, passengers and freight between British Guiana, the West Indies and Canada, as the fiscal policy of the United Kingdom does not allow of reciprocal treatment by the Home Country in the way of Customs preferential advantages. It should also not be overlooked that to make good the loss of revenue due to the grant of this preferential treatment to the United Kingdom and Canada the Colonial Sugar Industry is being directly taxed to the extent of 33 cents per acre of sugar cultivated, by section 3 (4) of Ordinance No. 1 of 1913.

5. It seems probable that when you so clearly warned my predecessor that no contribution to such a steamship service could be expected from the Imperial Government the reasons I have now drawn attention to were not considered.

I have, &c.,

WALTER EGERTON.

From the Secretary of State for the Colonies to the Governor.

DOWNING STREET,

25th August, 1913.

SIR,—In your despatch of the 6th June, you referred to the extension to the United Kingdom of the benefit of the preferential tariff established by the British Guiana Ordinance No. 8 of 1913, and suggested that in return sugar produced in the Colony should be placed on an equal footing with beet sugar produced in the United Kingdom and that a subsidy should be granted by His Majesty's Government to the steamer service between Canada and the West Indies.

As regards the first point, I have to inform you that His Majesty's Government have carefully considered whether, in view of the initiation of a beet sugar factory in Norfolk, the time has come for imposing an Excise duty on sugar produced in this country at such a rate as would, after allowance made for the additional cost of manufacture under excise restrictions, be equivalent to the duty on imported sugar. But, as stated in the House of Commons on July 29th by the Chancellor of Exchequer in answer to Mr. Russell Rea, His Majesty's Government have not yet thought it necessary or advisable to do so for the reason that the manufacture of sugar in this country is still purely in an experimental stage and the output is not significant, the factory having produced in 1912-13 44,995 cwts. of sugar, and about 15,500 cwts. of molasses. The position is being closely watched, and the fact that an Excise duty has not yet been imposed in no way implies that there has been any alteration in the policy of His Majesty's Government.

I must, however, make it clear that I am unable to accept the interpretation which you have placed on the correspondence which passed on this subject in 1918 and 1904.

As regards the steamer service, I have in the first place to point out that the reciprocity agreement was drawn up with special reference to the products of Canada, and that the benefits were extended to the United Kingdom only in accordance with the general principle to which the Royal Commission of 1909-10 made reference in their Report. Apart from the consideration adduced by the Commissioners, it will be realised that His Majesty's Government already contribute largely to the cost of the trans-Atlantic and intercolonial mail services, and in present circumstances I fear it would not be possible to justify to Parliament the payment of a subsidy to a service in which the trade of this country is not directly interested.

I have, &c.,

L. HARCOURT.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPEAL COURT (FULL COURT.)

THIS 13TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

JAMES WINTER, Appellant,

versus

JAMES WELCOME, Respondent.

The respondent was prosecuted on an information before Mr. Sissett, the Magistrate sitting at Georgetown, under Ordinance 26 of 1909, for refusing to fulfil a contract of service as a balata-bleeder. Section 5 of the Ordinance provides that "no contract of service shall be enforced under this Ordinance unless the labourer who is to serve under it has been registered by the Institute of Mines and Forests or by some officer or agent thereof, and a certificate of registration has been delivered to such labourer." The respondent was duly registered as a balata-bleeder by the Institute of Mines and Forests, but the certificate of registration given to him was not signed by anyone, but it had on it the impressed seal of the Institute. The Magistrate held that the certificate must be signed by the person who gave it and dismissed the information, and this ruling was upheld on appeal by Hill, J., on 2nd September, 1913. The appellant then appealed to the Full Court, and after hearing Humphrys for the appellant, Wills for the respondent not called on, the following judgments were delivered:

RAYNER, C.J.: The only question we have to decide is whether the document relied on as a certificate of registration under section 5 of the Ordinance is a certificate at all. It is clear to my mind that an unsigned document cannot be a certificate. A certificate is a document by means of which some person certifies or declares a particular thing to have happened. In this case the law requires that when a labourer has been registered someone shall give him a piece of paper to show that he has been duly registered, and I do not see how that piece of paper can prove the fact of his being duly registered unless the person who declares or proves that fact signs the paper. I cannot conceive of a document being a certificate unless it bears the signature of the person who proves the fact which is required to be proved. The person certifying must sign the paper in token that what he certifies is true. In this case there is no document bearing the signature of anyone to prove that the respondent was duly registered. There is therefore no certificate, and no proceedings can be taken under the Ordinance and the Magistrate was right in dismissing the information, and the judgment on appeal, affirming the dismissal of the Magistrate, was also right. The appeal must be dismissed with costs.

EARNSHAW, J.: This is an appeal from the decision of a Judge in which he affirmed the decision of a Magistrate.

The only question for consideration is whether a certain document referred to as Exhibit G is a certificate.

Section 5 of Ordinance 26 of 1909, provides that "no contract of service shall be enforced under this Ordinance unless the labourer who is to serve under it has been registered by the Institute of Mines and Forests or by some officer or agent thereof and a certificate of registration has been delivered to such labourer."

These words make the delivery of a "certificate of registration" to the labourer a condition precedent to enforcing the contract.

The Magistrate says "that no certificate was delivered to defendant as required by law," and the Judge says that "the Magistrate was right in holding that the certificate was no certificate in law." I go further and say that the document Exhibit G is not a certificate at all.

It is merely an unsigned statement, partly written and partly printed. It is in the first person and contains the words "I hereby certify that James Welcome . . . has this day been registered by me" . . . At the bottom of the statement is a space for signature above or opposite the words "Registering Officer," but no signature was attached.

Such a document is no certificate and cannot be a certificate without the signature of the person certifying.

To hold otherwise would be extremely dangerous, and would encourage very lax practice.

It makes no difference in this case whether the seal of the Institute of Mines and Forests was affixed to the document in question or not.

If it were completed by the signature of the Registering Officer, it would not make it a certificate by the Institute of Mines and Forests. It could only even under those circumstances amount to a certificate by a Registering Officer that something had been done by him the officer, and not by the Institute.

I agree with my brother judges that this appeal must be dismissed with costs.

HILL, Judge (Acting): This Court is asked to read into a Certificate of Registration something vital to it, and by so doing, to enforce a contract which is unenforceable in its absence; the result of so doing might result in the sending of respondent to prison. I cannot assent to such a submission. The respondent is entitled to the benefit of the laches of the Registering Officer and it would be dangerous, in my opinion, for this Court to deviate from the strict requirement of the enactment which is a highly penal one.

The contract becomes an informal agreement on which certain rights and liabilities may be founded, but is not enforceable under Ordinance 26 of 1909 by either party to the contract.

The judgment appealed against is affirmed with costs to the respondent.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 18TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

PHIPPS,
versus
WHITE.

The following judgment was delivered:—
EARNSHAW, J.: The plaintiff claims an account from the defendant and payment of what may be found due on the ground that plaintiff and defendant were parties to a mining partnership.

To constitute such a partnership it is necessary that plaintiff and defendant should not only own or acquire a claim for the purpose of working it, but also should either actually engage in working it, or jointly employ others to work it for them. See Ordinance I of 1903, section 37.

There is no doubt that the parties were the co-owners of a claim or claims.

The defendant however denies that there was ever any partnership in the working of the claim. This denial raises a question of fact. On this there is much evidence and there must be perjury on one side or the other. After listening to the witnesses and watching their demeanour, and after checking their evidence by what may be regarded as established facts in the case, I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that I do not believe the evidence of the plaintiff or his witnesses on the points which affect the question of partnership. I believe on the contrary the evidence of the defendant, and I therefore find as a fact on the evidence that no working partnership such as is alleged by the plaintiff ever existed between him and the defendant. This disposes of the whole claim and I give judgment for the defendant with costs.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPEAL COURT (FULL COURT)

THIS 13TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

JAMES WINTER, Appellant,

versus

JAMES WELCOME, Respondent.

The respondent was prosecuted on an information before Mr. Sissett, the Magistrate sitting at Georgetown, under Ordinance 26 of 1909, for refusing to fulfil a contract of service as a balata-bleeder. Section 5 of the Ordinance provides that "no contract of service shall be enforced under this Ordinance unless the labourer who is to serve under it has been registered by the Institute of Mines and Forests or by some officer or agent thereof, and a certificate of registration has been delivered to such labourer." The respondent was duly registered as a balata-bleeder by the Institute of Mines and Forests, but the certificate of registration given to him was not signed by anyone, but it had on it the impressed seal of the Institute. The Magistrate held that the certificate must be signed by the person who gave it and dismissed the information, and this ruling was upheld on appeal by Hill, J., on 2nd September, 1913. The appellant then appealed to the Full Court, and after hearing Humphrys for the appellant, Wills for the respondent not called on, the following judgments were delivered:

RAYNER, C.J.: The only question we have to decide is whether the document relied on as a certificate of registration under section 5 of the Ordinance is a certificate at all. It is clear to my mind that an unsigned document cannot be a certificate. A certificate is a document by means of which some person certifies or declares a particular thing to have happened. In this case the law requires that when a labourer has been registered someone shall give him a piece of paper to show that he has been duly registered, and I do not see how that piece of paper can prove the fact of his being duly registered unless the person who declares or proves that fact signs the paper. I cannot conceive of a document being a certificate unless it bears the signature of the person who proves the fact which is required to be proved. The person certifying must sign the paper in token that what he certifies is true. In this case there is no document bearing the signature of anyone to prove that the respondent was duly registered. There is therefore no certificate, and no proceedings can be taken under the Ordinance and the Magistrate was right in dismissing the information, and the judgment on appeal, affirming the dismissal of the Magistrate, was also right. The appeal must be dismissed with costs.

EARNSHAW, J.: This is an appeal from the decision of a Judge in which he affirmed the decision of a Magistrate.

The only question for consideration is whether a certain document referred to as Exhibit G is a certificate.

Section 5 of Ordinance 26 of 1909, provides that "no contract of service shall be enforced under this Ordinance unless the labourer who is to serve under it has been registered by the Institute of Mines and Forests or by some officer or agent thereof and a certificate of registration has been delivered to such labourer."

These words make the delivery of a "certificate of registration" to the labourer a condition precedent to enforcing the contract.

The Magistrate says "that no certificate was delivered to defendant as required by law," and the Judge says that "the Magistrate was right in holding that the certificate was no certificate in law." I go further and say that the document Exhibit G is not a certificate at all.

It is merely an unsigned statement, partly written and partly printed. It is in the first person and contains the words "I hereby certify that James Welcome . . . has this day been registered by me" . . . At the bottom of the statement is a space for signature above or opposite the words "Registering Officer," but no signature was attached.

Such a document is no certificate and cannot be a certificate without the signature of the person certifying.

To hold otherwise would be extremely dangerous, and would encourage very lax practice.

It makes no difference in this case whether the seal of the Institute of Mines and Forests was affixed to the document in question or not.

If it were completed by the signature of the Registering Officer, it would not make it a certificate by the Institute of Mines and Forests. It could only even under those circumstances amount to a certificate by a Registering Officer that something had been done by him the officer, and not by the Institute.

I agree with my brother judges that this appeal must be dismissed with costs.

HILL, Judge (Acting): This Court is asked to read into a Certificate of Registration something vital to it, and by so doing, to enforce a contract which is unenforceable in its absence; the result of so doing might result in the sending of respondent to prison. I cannot assent to such a submission. The respondent is entitled to the benefit of the lichas of the Registering Officer and it would be dangerous, in my opinion, for this Court to deviate from the strict requirement of the enactment which is a highly penal one.

The contract becomes an informal agreement on which certain rights and liabilities may be founded, but is not enforceable under Ordinance 26 of 1909 by either party to the contract.

The judgment appealed against is affirmed with costs to the respondent.

LIMITED JURISDICTION.

THIS 18TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1913.

PHIPPS,
versus
WHITE.

The following judgment was delivered:—

EARNshaw, J.: The plaintiff claims an account from the defendant and payment of what may be found due on the ground that plaintiff and defendant were parties in a mining partnership.

To constitute such a partnership it is necessary that plaintiff and defendant should not only own or acquire a claim for the purpose of working it, but also should either actually engage in working it, or jointly employ others to work it for them. See Ordinance 1 of 1903, section 37.

There is no doubt that the parties were the co-owners of a claim or claims.

The defendant however denies that there was ever any partnership in the working of the claim. This denial raises a question of fact. On this there is much evidence and there must be perjury on one side or the other. After listening to the witnesses and watching their demeanour, and after checking their evidence by what may be regarded as established facts in the case, I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that I do not believe the evidence of the plaintiff or his witnesses on the points which affect the question of partnership. I believe on the contrary the evidence of the defendant, and I therefore find as a fact on the evidence that no working partnership such as is alleged by the plaintiff ever existed between him and the defendant. This disposes of the whole claim and I give judgment for the defendant with costs.
